Mission: Helping high risk children and youth as well as their families in times of crisis or transition. Providing compassionate faith-based service to all.

Connecting with Mercy

Over the past 53 years, CityLinC has grown and expanded to address a variety of needs in our community. Roots began in the “Battle Creek Area Youth for Christ” organization. While working with troubled youth, it became apparent that whole families needed support and guidance.

Over time, this faith-based non-profit also reached out to help men and women re-enter the community after serving time in jail or prison. The “Second Wind Mentors” and “Handymen” programs help develop life skills, job skills, and self-esteem and confidence.

Each summer the “Stuff-a-Bus” campaign tries to make sure all students start the school year on even ground with the supplies they need. We are joining churches and businesses around Battle Creek to make this happen.

“CityLinC” stands for City Living in Christ. A good goal for a city: to live in Christ.
