

SAMs Lenten Resources Part 5 - Podcasts

What we put in our ears and minds is just as important as what we put in our bodies some days. Often though, especially as parents, it is hard to find time to sit down and read something, but, we might be better able to listen to something during some of our daily activities. Folding laundry, commuting, cooking dinner, exercising and so on, are all great times to pop on a podcast and let God's word or some spiritual listening enlighten you. I had some good helpers in compiling this list as well, so a big thank you to those who contributed.
