A NOTE FROM FATHER DANIEL . . .

Advent: a time to surround each other in prayer so that God's peace, love, joy and hope can enter our lives

As we prepare to allow Jesus, the Prince of Peace, enter our lives, everything around us seems to work to take this same peace away from us, so we lift each other up in prayer:

We pray for all our college students, who might find themselves overwhelmed with papers and exams, that they will be able to put things into perspective, do their best while in humility accepting their limitations, and hold tight to Jesus through this time.

We pray for all who, through the holidays experience loneliness, that they will find the courage to seek opportunities to be with others and at all times experience God's nearness.

We pray for all who, in this season grieve their loved ones who have died, that they will allow hope into their hearts in the expectation of eternal life with those they love and be comforted by our communities.

We pray for all couples, that through these stressful times of many gatherings, financial burdens and expectations, they will be able to be gentle and patient with each other and when they argue, they will be able to promptly forgive each other and reconcile.

We pray for all who are sick, especially those in hospice, that they will find strength in the Lord and support in their communities.

We pray for those who struggle with depression and other mental illness, that they will have peace as they see others rejoice so easily during this season, and are able to be gentle and patient with themselves without falling into despair.

We pray for all victims of addiction, that they will stay strong during this season if they are in recovery or find renewed strength in Jesus' coming to attempt recovery.

We pray for all facing financial challenges, that they will not be diminished by the undue consumerism of this season and that others will provide so they can celebrate with joy and dignity.

We pray for all who have to celebrate far away from their families and for families missing them, that they will experience their closeness in love.

We pray for all who will be traveling, that they will be safe.

We pray for all, that in the midst of all the craziness of this season, we will find time for rest, peace and prayer....that we will be able to rediscover in awe that God is Emmanuel, that God is always with us.

A.M.D.G., Father Daniel
