A NOTE FROM FATHER DANIEL . . .

Congratulations on your First Holy Communion!

Throughout this season of Easter, we have been called to rediscover the gift of the Most Holy Eucharist. For this purpose we celebrated a teaching Mass on May 5, and we have been especially attentive to the Prayer of the Mass (Collect, Prayer over the Offerings and Closing Prayer) that have reminded us of the most holy exchange that happens every time we celebrate the Eucharist and partake in Holy Communion. Renewed in our love for the Eucharist and having deepened our understanding of this most awesome of mysteries, as we conclude the season this weekend, we celebrate in a special way as nine of our children will receive Holy Communion for the first time:

From All Saints: Gino D'Alessandro, Michaela Durkee and Andrew Stallone. From Holy Cross: Addyson Petrillose, Brooke Petrillose and Caden Wood. From St. Anthony: Chloe Bishop, Claire Botsford and Torianna Toro.

Thank you to the parents, grandparents, great grandparents, family, catechists and all who have inspired and encouraged the children with their prayers and actions during their journey of faith.

May this be an opportunity for all of us to remember our own First Holy Communion and to relive that experience as we fall ever more deeply in love with our Lord truly present in the Most Blessed Sacrament.

A.M.D.G.,

Father Daniel

Eucharist

*What does it mean to receive Christ's body?
To receive Christ's blood? Why do we need it?
What does it mean?*

When you think of every day, with every day's work, and every day's problems, you begin to understand. It wasn't enough for God, being God, to come to earth a long time ago. He had to think of a way to be with us NOW! And so He did. Jesus came to live for us.. to die.. to rise and to be with us each moment, each hour, each day.

And one of the great things about the Eucharist is that every time someone says to us "Body of Christ" and "Blood of Christ" and we receive the Eucharist, we know that Christ is with us and we are one with Him and we are part of one another, too: We are all brothers, all sisters. And Jesus, who makes us one, feeds us and keeps us going on the way... every day.

"This is My Body. This is My Blood"
