Almighty God,

Bless our nation and make it true to the ideas of freedom and justice and brotherhood for all who make it great.

Guard us from war, from fire and wind, from compromise, fear, confusion.

Be close to our president and our statesmen; give them vision and courage, as they ponder decisions affecting peace and the future of the world.

Make me more deeply aware of my heritage; realizing not only my rights, but also my duties and responsibilities as a citizen.

Make this great land and all its people know clearly Your will, that they may fulfill the destiny ordained for us in the salvation of the nations, and the restoring of all things in Christ.

Happy Birthday America!

Amen,

NEW TO THE COLLABORATIVE?

We warmly welcome all new parishioners to our family!

Please complete a registration form by contacting us in the parish office, or by clicking on Register in the Collaborative under the I Would Like To tab on the home page of our website; www.chelmsfordcatholic.org.

Why is it so important to register in a parish?

Isn’t is good enough that we go to Mass?

Registration is the official way to join a parish community. It is a commitment; a way to be included in the religious, social and ministerial activities of your parish.

Your registration affects the parish in many ways. Census numbers help determine how many priests are assigned to a church; what benefits and obligations the community has to the diocese in which it belongs; and how Masses, Confessions and devotions are planned and scheduled.

Registration shows you belong. It lets the parish count on you, to call on you to assist in its mission. Registering in your parish is a statement of faith and confidence in the life and work of your parish.
Due to an early submittal to the printer because of the July 4th holiday, the collection figures for the weekend of June 27th/28th will be reported in next week’s bulletin.

St. John BUILDING UPDATE
- The parking lot light project—necessary due to two separate car accidents—is just about complete. We have 5 new light poles and have paved the areas of concern. Also, new spotlights have been installed on the St. John sign in the front of the church, as well as the Bingo sign.
- The basement space below the church has been cleaned and organized for useful storage space for our ministries and our maintenance staff.
- Mowing of the grass has been done weekly around the property. Additional landscaping of our grounds are on the schedule for this coming week.

St. Mary BUILDING UPDATE
- You will notice that the parking lot gate located between the front and rear parking lot has been replaced by cones [for the safety of our parishioners entering into Masses]. This is because it needs repair—hinges need to be repaired—which is being addressed. Once repaired, it will be closed again.
- The 4 benches outside the parish center are being sanded, stained and sealed.
- Mowing of the grass around the property continues to be completed weekly around the property. Additional landscaping of our grounds, including the Grotto area, are on the schedule for this coming week.

Our members wish to thank our generous parishioners for $6,921 donated to the June 13th/14th SVdP Special Collection and to the May poor box. This annual collection is a very important funding source needed to underwrite our work in our parish community.

Additionally, we thank all the generous donors who continue to make weekly donations to the poor boxes located at the entrances to the church. Your tremendous generosity allows our society to assist many struggling individuals and families in our community.

May God bless and protect you and your families.

WE HAVE HEARD YOU! In response to parent concerns as they relate to the pandemic, the realities of COVID-19 and social distancing restrictions, we are designing an adapted model for the upcoming year.

Lots and lots of planning is going on 'behind the scenes' to provide a family-friendly program that is both enriching and engaging. Fully understanding and appreciating that you have been overwhelmed over the past few month, it is our goal to provide formation that does not add any additional stress to your family life.

KEEPING ALL OF OUR FAMILIES IN PRAYER!

"Oh, how abundant is your goodness, which you have stored up for those who fear you and worked for those who take refuge in you, in the sight of the children of mankind!"

Growing in Faith through Reflection on the Readings...

FIRST READING: ZECHARIAH 9:9-10

The prophet Zechariah envisioned a future king for the people of Israel who would rule the nations with justice and humility. How do you see these virtues as a strength in leadership?

SECOND READING: ROMANS 8: 9, 11-13

Paul speaks of the promise of the resurrection from the dead for believers who reject the flesh and live according to the Spirit. What spiritual exercises do you practice that help reject the flesh?

GOSPEL READING: MATTHEW 11: 25-30

Jesus praises his Father for the irony of the wise and learned who are unable to see what is revealed to the childlike. What does this tell us about the kingdom of heaven?
A few years ago, I had the opportunity to go to Valley Forge in Pennsylvania. As a history buff and someone who has a deep affinity towards George Washington, it is a place I had always wanted to visit. And honestly, it was better that I went alone because I was able to really take my time and explore the area. It was a much more extensive site than I had realized. As I spent my time there, I tried to place myself in the shoes of the people who experienced the brutal and punishing winter of 1777-1778. It was essentially the fourth largest city in the country, with over 12,000 soldiers and 400 women encamped at this location. But there were some major problems. They did not have proper shelter, clothing or food. What the Continental Congress promised was not forth coming as the state governments refused to furnish what was needed. The suffering of the soldiers was tremendous. In fact, through that winter some 2,000 people died from disease and other issues that arose from the fierce winter conditions. Hence, it would have been very easy for the army to dissolve at this time, but instead, something amazing occurred.

At times during winter encampments, it was not unusual for officers to leave their soldiers and go somewhere more comfortable. Generally, major battles were avoided during winter conditions. But George Washington did not desert his men; he stayed with them in Valley Forge. He also fought tooth and nail to get the Continental government to fix the supply problems for his soldiers. This crucible essentially bonded Washington with his men. They would never forget that he weathered the storm with them and fought for their needs. They also were blessed during this time to get a Prussian soldier, Baron von Steuben, to train and drill the soldiers in proper military procedures and tactics. By springtime an essentially ragged band of untrained militia had turned into a professional fighting force that was an equal to the British regulars. The primary reason for this transformation was George Washington’s actions and attitude. His care and concern for the soldiers created a bond that would never be broken. And it was this winter that in many ways made July 4th a reality that would remain. Up to this point it was not certain that our independence would become permanent. To declare yourself independent of the most powerful empire in the world and to make it a reality are not necessarily the same thing. Many believed that the end of the winter in Valley Forge would see the end of the rebellion, and it would not be in the Americans’ favor. But one man’s determination, to maintain that army and to support it in every way he could, made all the difference.

As we have just celebrated Independence Day, it can be very easy to look at all we have as a nation and take it for granted. It is very easy to simply assume that what we have is there because we deserve it. We can look at the tremendous gifts of liberty and justice and believe they simply exist because they are ours by right. But, simply put, if those who went into Valley Forge that winter chose to simply head home—as happened in past engagements during the Revolution—the war would have been over and the British would have won. Instead, they made a decision to stay with the one person who showed that he cared for them. This one man, in essence, put his money where his mouth was. George Washington put the needs of his nation above his own. Thus, in a real sense he saved the nation. It is amazing to contemplate how one moment in history could make all the difference, and how one person could affect the trajectory that a nation would take.

As a nation we are being forced, rightfully so, to confront some deep-seated issues that have existed since the foundation of our country. Discrimination was rampant in so many directions. The worst, of course, was that meted out to those who were forced to come to this nation on slave ships. They were never given any hope for anything but a life of brutality—a life stripped of freedom and justice. They had no rights, not even to where they would live or who they could love. Not even their children were considered their own. The document that declared our independence belied the reality of the oppression that existed in our nation. As we fought for our liberty, freedom and justice, the whole of our society was set to ensure that a quarter of the population would never know anything about that.

But what George Washington teaches us is that at a crisis moment in history, one person can make a difference. He placed the needs of his men and his people above his own. By focusing on the needs of others he changed the direction our nation was most likely going in.

As Christians we can make a difference and we must make a difference. What we face is a situation that is deeply rooted and one that is systemic to our culture. But the lesson of Washington is really the lesson of Christ: one person can make a difference. And both did it, not by what they said, but what they did. We can truly make this a real independence day if we choose simply to make a difference.

How do we make a difference? It is by being willing to really listen to those with whom we disagree. It is by being willing not to marginalize someone who does meet our standards. It is by not judging a book by its cover. It is about recognizing that the other is not our enemy; rather, they are simply a person we need to truly dialogue with. It is about recognizing the truth of what others have experienced, even if it does not match our perceptions. It is simply about upholding the dignity and sanctity of the lives of all peoples. That is what Christ did on the cross, and that is what He calls us to do in our lives.

Let us choose to make that difference!

If you have any questions about anything, please do not hesitate to ask me directly, or send your questions to me at fr.brian@chelmsfordcatholic.org.

Please keep me in your prayers.
Coming up for air on this Sunday afternoon, as I sit and set fingers to keyboard, committing thoughts to paper. As I begin to write this, not knowing in the slightest what direction the Spirit will take me, I can see my fully-bloomed Catalpa Tree—a perfect view from my home office window. I know, from the past 4 summers that it will drop and litter my lawn with its blooms soon enough. Too soon by my standards as there is, for me, almost nothing better to gaze upon than a flowering tree in full bloom.

Why do I like this tree so much? It is majestic and grand—its heart-shaped leaves are bigger than my hand! It’s beauty is simple, yet strong, hiding away and sheltering in its branches a diverse array of birds that I hear each morning when I exercise Ru [my dog] with the use of a tennis racket and three tennis balls. It provides shade as it now towers over the height of the small yellow open-concept cape that I call home. And at its base grow daisies, which have been cut and now rest in numerous vases in numerous places. In short, this small wonder—my Catalpa Tree—brings me great joy.

Things of beauty are all around us, yet we are often blind to their presence. In the light of all that has gone on in our world, in our country, in our stated and cities since March, we can easily be deafened to the sounds of that which is good. We find it hard to hear God’s voice in the midst of chaos.

So, I turn my sight to my tree, and my hearing to my birds, and in those moments of clarity, being reminded ever so slightly that God is present HERE AND NOW AND NO MATTER WHAT. I take a deep breath and pray that I can carry this moment with me throughout my day. And I usually find that I can’t, as I lose it among the many other moments that fill my space and time. But then, I remember. I always remember.

I pray that you, too, have a ‘Catalpa Tree,’ and if not, that you find one.

Peace and Blessings!

WOW... Would anyone have thought we would be in these current situations? Not me for sure! I never thought we would be in this COVID-19 Pandemic as well as the racial injustice we are all witnessing.

During this COVID-19 Pandemic, I have found it heartbreaking that families could not be with those who were, and are, sick with this disease, and those who have died alone, with no family member to hold their hand when they went to God. In the past, I drove Bishop Emilio Allue, our former Regional Bishop of the Merrimack Region to his Confirmations and functioned as his Master of Ceremonies for a few years. I cried when I saw Cardinal Sean saying the prayers of commendation for Bishop Allue outside of the Cathedral of the Holy Cross in Boston, as his casket remained in the hearse. This is a difficult time for all of us, however, I feel God is doing wonderful things during this pandemic.

Families are spending more quality time together. Families are praying together. People are doing prayer groups, bible studies, rosary groups and teachings on Zoom. I lead a rosary and Chaplet of Divine Mercy every Saturday night on Zoom. (I wish I bought stock in Zoom.☺) And there is a family with several children who sit on their sofa and pray the rosary. It is a beautiful sight. It is something they probably would not be doing if this pandemic did not happen.

I am constantly reminded of the words of one of my favorite saints, St. Padre Pio of Pietrelcina. “Pray, Hope, and Don’t Worry. Worry is useless. God is merciful and will hear your prayer.”

A few suggestions:
- Watch Fr. Brian’s talks online
- Pray the Rosary every day, by joining the parish at 7 pm via St. Mary Live Stream
- Let us dust off our Bible and read Sacred Scripture every day
- Trust in the Lord and remember... “If God brings you to it; He will bring you through it.”

You are all in my prayers!

Peace and Blessings!
THANK YOU to all who have submitted and shared with us thus far. I believe I speak for all when I say that we truly enjoy reading your words! It is one more way that we are bound together in community — a true showing that we are really more alike than we are different. I continue to invite others to come forward, as the Spirit leads....

THE DANCE OF MOTHER AND SON

The mother and son dance in my heart.
He oft steps back or moves apart so
That she — most graceful — might impart
Her generous, selfless, gracious art.

And she is with me doing I know
Not what, though I can tell she’s busy,
As any mother’s child can tell
Its mother’s sure activity.

And when she’s done what she would do,
Her son advances and she departs,
Allowing him to act as he would
Like — as most delights his heart.

Two heavenly beings exquisite
In their choreography
Of care for me and for each other —
Tracing pas de deux unseen.
This offering funds the beautification of our Altar. Your voluntary donation can be accompanied by the request that it be “In Memory/Appreciation Of”, or “For the Intentions Of” someone.
