NON-TRIVIAL PURSUITS

Weekly challenge from your Faith Formation Team (8/30/2020)

Another controversy raised by our summer series on the Saints is that some Christians believe the Catholic tradition of honoring saints breaks the First Commandment.

What is the First Commandment?

Why does our recognition of the Saints (including the Virgin Mary) not violate that commandment?

Answer to last week's question (8/23/2020)

There are 72 books in a Catholic Bible, 27 in the New Testament and 45 in the Old Testament. Of those, most Protestants reject 6 of the Old Testament books as "Apocrypha."

"Apocryphal" in Greek means "hidden," but the early Church used it for books supposedly written by the Apostles but whose actual authors were unknown. These books, the Magisterium determined, were of varying quality – some devotionally useful, some dangerously heretical – but none of them "canonical" – on the list of books considered inspired Scripture. These books are frequently called in the popular press "Hidden books of the Bible" and it is suggested that they were "suppressed" by a tyrannical Church determined to control the narrative about Jesus to their own beliefs.

Those aren't the books that Protestants mean by "Apocrypha." They use the term to refer to books which were included in the Greek translation of the Hebrew Scriptures (called the Septuagint) that was used in Palestine at the time of Jesus. Later Jewish scholars rejected those books as inauthentic because they were believed to have been written in Greek, not Hebrew. When Luther did his translation of the Bible, he left those books out, reasoning that the Old Testament should include only the books accepted by the Jews. In response the Catholic Magisterium in the Council of Trent listed the books of the Old Testament, including those disputed texts.

Today most Catholic Bibles refer to those books as the "Deuterocanon" – deutero means second in Greek.

Ironically, the discovery and ongoing work with the Dead Sea Scrolls has shown that all six of the disputed books existed in Hebrew before the birth of Jesus and most were probably written in Aramaic. Canonized in 2000 by Pope John Paul II. Both of her confirmed miracles involved someone's being healed of deafness.

Eucharistic

Adoration

First Friday Adoration September 4th, 6-8pm

Between the hour of 7:00-8:00pm we will have an intentional hour of prayer. Each month, we pray for a specific intention that affects our universal church. Our goal is to use this most holy time of prayer to call on God's involvement and blessing in these specific areas of need in our Church. There will be special prayers offered during this hour and we ask you prayerfully consider coming to church and participating in this or any portion of First Friday Adoration.

Discipleship: becoming whom you follow

During Ordinary time the Lectionary presents stories and teachings from Jesus' everyday ministry. This week's readings focus on messiahship and discipleship.

Matthew's gospel reaches a turning point: Jesus chooses to go to Jerusalem, revealing the kind of messiah he will be. In this pericope Jesus defines his messiahship; Peter rejects it; and Jesus redefines how to be a disciple to a suffering messiah.

Jesus as suffering messiah. Last week's mention of Jeremiah (see the first reading) clarifies Jesus' understanding of his identity and mission as messiah. Jesus understands his prophetic mission will bring him in conflict with the "elders, chief-priests, and scribes" and result in his suffering and death. Jesus tells his disciples that he will be raised, but they can't hear his hope-filled message, and don't understand what it means. With this passion prediction, Matthew links the disciples' and his ekklesia's sufferings to Jesus' sufferings.

Peter rejects Jesus' messiahship. Last week, Jesus makes a pun on Peter/Kephas/Rocky as "a foundation rock;" now Peter makes himself "a stumbling stone." Jesus calls Peter "Satan" because Peter tempts Jesus with a messiahship of conquering power and reigning in glory. To deny Jesus' passion and death is to be on Satan's side. Peter's inability to see Jesus as a suffering messiah turns Rocky into a stumbling stone.

Jesus redefines discipleship. To be Jesus' disciple ("come after me") one must do three things. First, place the concerns of others before his or her own ("deny" or "disown"). Second, emulate Jesus' own life and death in service to others ("take up the cross"). Discipleship and the cross are synonymous. Third, walk the same path as Jesus daily in service and sacrifice to others. "Follow me" is a continuing commitment, not an occasional or once-a-week action. At the parousia, the Son of Man will judge everyone based on his or her words and actions. Jesus promises that faithful disciples will receive eternal life in God's kingdom.

This week's readings ask us to think about discipleship in the context of Jesus' messiahship. Jeremiah recognizes that a life given in service to God's words results in rejection, persecution, and martyrdom. Paul tells believers to become living sacrifices in service to others. Jesus struggles to make his vision of a suffering messiah clear to confused followers. Jesus' messiahship defines our discipleship. Do God's words compel us to speak truth, or does fear or rejection or reprisal silence us? Does a renewed mind guide us in difficult ethical choices, or do we allow secular voices to shout down our discernment? Do we choose to follow a suffering messiah to the cross, or do we treat discipleship as an occasional annoying inconvenience?

ST. PATRICK'S BREASTPLATE

St. Patrick's Breastplate is a popular prayer attributed to one of Ireland's most beloved patron saints. According to tradition, St. Patrick wrote it in 433 A.D. for divine protection before successfully converting the Irish King Leoghaire and his subjects from paganism to Christianity. (The term breastplate refers to a piece of armor worn in battle.)

I arise today
Through a mighty strength, the invocation of the Trinity,
Through belief in the Threeness,
Through confession of the Oneness of the Creator of creation.

I arise today
Through the strength of Christ's birth
with His baptism,
Through the strength of His crucifixion with His burial,
Through the strength of His resurrection with His ascension,
Through the strength of His descent for the judgment of doom.

I arise today
Through the strength of the love of
cherubim,
In the obedience of angels,
In the service of archangels,
In the hope of resurrection to meet with reward,
In the prayers of patriarchs,
In the predictions of prophets,
In the preaching of apostles,
In the faith of confessors,
In the innocence of holy virgins,
In the deeds of righteous men.

I arise today, through
The strength of heaven,
The light of the sun,
The radiance of the moon,
The splendor of fire,
The speed of lightning,
The swiftness of wind,
The depth of the sea,
The stability of the earth,
The firmness of rock.

I arise today, through
God's strength to pilot me,
God's might to uphold me,
God's wisdom to guide me,
God's eye to look before me,
God's ear to hear me,
God's word to speak for me,
God's hand to guard me,
God's shield to protect me,
God's host to save me
From snares of devils,
From temptation of vices,
From everyone who shall wish me ill,
afar and near.

I summon today
All these powers between me and
those evils,
Against every cruel and merciless power
that may oppose my body and soul,
Against incantations of false prophets,
Against black laws of pagandom,
Against false laws of heretics,
Against craft of idolatry,
Against spells of witches and smiths
and wizards,
Against every knowledge that corrupts man's body and soul;
Christ to shield me today
Against poison, against burning,
Against drowning, against wounding,
So that there may come to me an abundance of reward.

Christ before me,
Christ behind me,
Christ in me,
Christ beneath me,

Christ on my left,
Christ when I lie down,
Christ when I sit down,
Christ when I arise,
Christ in the heart of every man
who thinks of me,
Christ in the mouth of everyone
who speaks of me,
Christ in every eye that sees me,
Christ in every ear that hears me.
