

Title: Beyond Death's Door	Author: D. Sims, E. Grollman, W. Jenkins, A. Wolfelt
Media type: (check one) <input type="checkbox"/> Book <input type="checkbox"/> CD/Audio book <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> DVD	Call Number: DVD, BEY
Review submitted by: Sharon Krieg	Date:
Subject (e.g. Prayer, Family Life, Sacraments, Saints, Bible Study, Moral Conduct, Social Justice) All things pertinent to Death and the Bereaved
1. What is this book about? (describe briefly) This DVD deals with all aspects of grief and mourning in detail and remembers the audience who would be most likely to want to watch it.
2. What main message does the author convey? There are so many aspects to grief and mourning that I think anyone who is dealing with this would be able to identify with and find greater understanding and comfort from this DVD. These various aspects are explained with great compassion.
3. What inspired you the most about this book, and why would you recommend it? The comfort it brings to the bereaved is why I recommend this DVD. At some point in this program the viewer will identify with something that was said and not feel quite so alone and sad.
4. Who would benefit from reading this book? Grief counselors and bereaved alike will benefit. It will give insight for the counselors to help out the bereaved. Grief stricken people will find helpful information to help them through this hard new future without their beloved.
5. Any other impressions: It gives some insight into the grief that children feel, and how one can help the child/children cope while absorbing the difficult truth of the death of someone(s) they love.	