VIDEO OF THE MONTH: This month's video: "Personal, Not Private," a six-minute presentation by Fr. Mike Schmitz. If the Church is truly the body of Christ, then everything we do must have some effect on the body, even those acts we think nobody sees. Fr. Mike shares how this may be tough to acknowledge when it comes to sin and that we wish it affected us only privately, but also how all the good we do that nobody sees empowers the Church in some way. "Your life, personal sin but also your personal choice for goodness, for greatness, for Jesus, matters. And it makes a difference in this world, and makes a difference in someone's life." March 3, 2017

Dear St. Pius X Families,

The Principal Search Committee is excited to announce that Mr. Darren Smith has been selected as the next principal of St. Pius X School, replacing Carole Winkel, who has been the interim School Principal for the last two years. Darren is currently the interim Assistant School Principal at St. Pius X and will begin his new position as Principal on July 1, 2017.

Darren is a graduate of The Ohio State University and has a Bachelor of Science in Physical Education and a Master in Educational Leadership from Ohio Dominican University, with a concentration in Catholic Education. He holds all the qualifications required to be a Diocese of Columbus Principal. His previous experience includes five years teaching physical education daily to students in grades kindergarten through eighth grade, along with health to eighth grade students at St. James the Less. He also spent some time as a reading tutor at St. James the Less for third graders. He has been a member of the Catholic Schools Week Committee since 2012 and Intervention Assistance Team since 2011. He currently is on a three-year term with the Diocese of Columbus Standards Based Grading Committee. This school year he was the creator of the Positive Panther Points and it has been a pleasure watching that award develop with the students.

Darren received many recommendations from teachers in our school, some Diocese high school principals and elementary school principals, and some employees in the Office of Catholic Schools, who all believed he would be a devoted principal for St. Pius X. He attended elementary school at Immaculate Conception and high school at Bishop Watterson. He has a strong passion for Catholic education. He is very solid in his faith and has an utmost devotion to the spiritual and educational growth of St. Pius X.

We know Darren will continue the strong tradition of excellent leadership at St. Pius X while aspiring to raise the bar on student learning and staff development. He will work closely with our parish and school to continue the strong faith based community and high standards of learning that make St. Pius X flourish.

In Christ,

Msgr. David Junk

LIVES OF THE SAINTS...

Saint Cyril of Jerusalem
 Saint of the Day for March 18
 (c. 315 - March 18, 386)
 Saint Cyril of Jerusalem's Story

The crises that the Church faces today may seem minor when compared with the threat posed by the Arian heresy, which denied the divinity of Christ and almost overcame Christianity in the fourth century. Cyril was to be caught up in the controversy, accused of Arianism by Saint Jerome, and ultimately vindicated both by the men of his own time and by being declared a doctor of the Church in 1822.

Raised in Jerusalem, well-educated, especially in the Scriptures, he was ordained a priest by the bishop of Jerusalem and given the task of catechizing during Lent those preparing for Baptism and during the Easter season the newly baptized. His Catecheses remain valuable as examples of the ritual and theology of the Church in the mid-fourth century.

There are conflicting reports about the circumstances of his becoming bishop of Jerusalem.

It is certain that he was validly consecrated by bishops of the province. Since one of them was an Arian, Acacius, it may have been expected that his "cooperation" would follow. Conflict soon rose between Cyril and Acacius, bishop of the rival nearby see of Caesarea. Cyril was summoned to a council, accused of insubordination and of selling Church property to relieve the poor. Probably, however, a theological difference was also involved. He was condemned, driven from Jerusalem, and later vindicated, not without some association and help of Semi-Arians. Half his episcopate was spent in exile (his first experience was repeated twice). He finally returned to find Jerusalem torn with heresy, schism, and strife, and wracked with crime. Even Saint Gregory of Nyssa, sent to help, left in despair.

They both went to the Council of Constantinople, where the amended form of the Nicene Creed was promulgated in 381. Cyril accepted the word consubstantial (that is, Christ is of the same substance or nature as the Father). Some said it was an act of repentance, but the bishops of the Council praised him as a champion of orthodoxy against the Arians. Though not friendly with the greatest defender of orthodoxy against the Arians, Cyril may be counted among those whom Athanasius called "brothers, who mean what we mean, and differ only about the word consubstantial."

Reflection: Those who imagine that the lives of saints are simple and placid, untouched by the vulgar breath of controversy, are rudely shocked by history. Yet, it should be no surprise that saints, indeed all Christians, will experience the same difficulties as their Master. The definition of truth is an endless, complex pursuit, and good men and women have suffered the pain of both controversy and error. Intellectual, emotional, and political roadblocks may slow up people like Cyril for a time. But their lives taken as a whole are monuments to honesty and courage.
