

Saint Ann School

Where Faith & Knowledge Meet

Dear Saint Ann School Families,

During this time of school closure and learning from home Age of Learning is providing us with free at-home access to their online learning programs ABCmouse, Adventure Academy, and ReadingIQ. These are research-based educational programs which include thousands of digital learning activities. They can be an invaluable resource while preschool, pre-k, elementary, and middle school students are learning at home.

All three programs can be used on computers, tablets, and smartphones, and you can add up to three children per account.

Accessing the Accounts

For all three you will enter our school code: SCHOOL5754

Following this you will create an account using your personal email and create a password of your choice.

While I understand that in-home learning is not optimal I am hopeful that these free resources will provide additional support.

Please reach out to me should you experience any difficulty.

Thank you and God Bless,
