

OCTOBER 27, 2019

“Two people went up to the temple area to pray; one was a Pharisee and the other a tax collector.”

The two men did not go into the temple because only priest could go into the temple, and only at certain times of the year. The two men clearly had different attitudes about praying and holiness.

The Pharisee studied every word of the law and the prophets, and he observed every minute detail. That was his idea of holiness. He was in the temple area to brag to God about how well he was doing. He wanted others to see him in the temple area. To him, holiness was observing every minute detail of the law, even if doing so meant he ignored the needs of neighbor and did not love them as he loved himself. The other man was a hated tax collector. He did not have time to learn every letter of the law, and probably did not want to. He knew he was not perfect and was aware of his offenses against God. Jesus tells us that the tax collector, who humbled himself before God, went home justified, but not the Pharisee, who had exalted himself before others. Jesus is challenging us to consider why we pray, out of pride or humility?
