Establishment of Holiday

The modern holiday of Mother's Day was first celebrated in 1908, when Anna Jarvis held a memorial for her mother at St. Andrew's Methodist Church in Grafton, West Virginia. St. Andrew's Methodist Church now holds the International Mother's Day Shrine. Her campaign to make Mother's Day a recognized holiday in the United States began in 1905, the year her mother, Ann Reeves Jarvis, died. Ann Jarvis had been a peace activist who cared for wounded soldiers on both sides of the American Civil War, and created Mother's Day Work Clubs to address public health issues. Anna Jarvis wanted to honor her mother by continuing the work she started and to set aside a day to honor all mothers because she believed a mother is "the person who has done more for you than anyone in the world".

In 1908, the U.S. Congress rejected a proposal to make Mother's Day an official holiday, joking that they would also have to proclaim a "Mother-in-law's Day. However, owing to the efforts of Anna Jarvis, by 1911 all U.S. states observed the holiday, with some of them officially recognizing Mother's Day as a local holiday (the first being West Virginia, Jarvis' home state, in 1910). In 1914, Woodrow Wilson signed a proclamation designating Mother's Day, held on the second Sunday in May, as a national holiday to honor mothers.

Although Jarvis was successful in founding Mother's Day, she became resentful of the commercialization of the holiday. By the early 1920's, Hallmark Cards and other companies had started selling Mother's Day cards. Jarvis believed that the companies had misinterpreted and exploited the idea of Mother's Day, and that the emphasis of the holiday was on sentiment, not profit. As a result, she organized boycotts of Mother's Day, and threatened to issue lawsuits against the companies involved. Jarvis argued that people should appreciate and honor their mothers through handwritten letters expressing their love and gratitude, instead of buying gifts and pre-made cards. Jarvis protested at a candy makers' convention in Philadelphia in 1923, and at a meeting of American War Mothers in 1925. By this time, carnations had become associated with Mother's Day, and the selling of carnations by the American War Mothers to raise money angered Jarvis, who was arrested for disturbing the peace.

Congratulations and Blessings to the 2nd graders that received their 1st Communion on Saturday evening and to their parents for bringing your child into the real presence of Jesus our Lord. Special thank you to Natasha Streit for preparing the students to receive this awesome sacrament and to Connie Fischer for everything she does as our Director of Religious Education, Dan Fischer for hanging the banners and preparing the hall, and Sami Fischer for taking the photos and burning them to CD;s for the families. St. Stanislaus is so blessed to have all these wonderful people in our church and parish life!

Congratulations

to Alexis Broxterman who received the sacraments of Baptism, 1st Communion, and Confirmation at the Easter Vigil. Welcome, Alexis, to our beautiful Catholic Faith!

Special Belated Thank You to the choir members for their many hours of practice and preparation for the Easter Triduum. St. Stanislaus was blessed to have the shared choir from both parishes to complement our Masses. Thank you so much for all you do and for lending your voices in praise and worship!

Please Pray for the repose of the soul of George Sullivan. May his soul rest in peace.
