The principle chalice should be placed where it is easy to pour the wine+water into it, as well as into the other chalices.

The Book of Prayer Intentions should be placed at the top of the altar, where it is not in the way of any ciboria or chalices.

After the altar is set and the priest has said the prayers with the bread and wine, the altar servers will wash his hands. One pours water over his fingers while another holds the Lavabo Bowl under his hands. The third hands the priest the Towel to dry his hands.

The server holding the Water Cruet should remove the Wine Pitcher from the altar after the hand-washing is completed.
