November marks the final month in our Church liturgical calendar and our Scripture readings point towards eternal life and the end of human history. Everything in our Christian faith focuses on the person of Jesus Christ, and anything said then about eternity and the end of human history is definitively shaped by what Jesus has and continues to do. This weekend I am giving three fundamental principles that put human life in this perspective.

I came from God.

I belong to God.

My eternal destiny is God.

It is our conviction that human life finds its origin in God and that although life begins at conception, God foresaw each of our lives from the beginning of creation and knew he was going to call us into existence. Throughout our lives we belong to God because it is He who entrusts life to us.

Life is not ours to do with as we wish, but always to be used in a way that honors God. It is not our “project” but instead we are part of God’s grand design for all of humanity and all of creation! And, our destiny is nothing short of heaven: a place of definitive and unending happiness!

And, as we head towards winter……….here’s my reminder that regardless of weather our daily and weekend Masses will not be cancelled. Both Fr. Hans and I live close by and can make it here easily. Please use good judgment if you should come. We have no way of de-icing or plowing the parking lot, so if in doubt stay home and stay safe – especially our elderly! You are automatically dispensed of any obligation to come to Mass. And, on a similar note, if you have a cold or the flu, please stay home. No need to share that with the rest of us!

I am blessed as your pastor to be inspired daily by so many of you. Here are a few examples from just this past week: A group of men from the parish (from Knights of Columbus) responded to a request from Beaverton High School to paint one of their rooms. A parishioner checked in with a person who had not been at Mass for quite a while and offered any kind of assistance desired. A teacher in one of our public schools went way above and beyond expectations in spending weekend time with a family with an especially challenging child. Good stuff, folks. This is how we build God’s Kingdom in our midst.

Blessings to Ayla Guerrero and Jackson Lynch, who were baptized this weekend!

Congratulations to Katherine Wiley and Jesse White, who were married here on November 9th. Blessings to you and to all of our married and engaged couples!

As good Catholics, we try our best to avoid superstition. Still, some of them are just so interesting! And fun! When you’re bored, take a look at these origin stories for several well-known superstitions, from The Little Book of Answers…

✧ Why is a horseshoe thought to be good luck?
A horseshoe’s charm comes from the legend of St. Dunstan, a Medieval blacksmith who was (it’s said) one day asked by the devil to shoe his cloven hoof. St. Dunstan agreed, but in carrying out the task, he caused the devil such pain that he was able to make him promise never to enter a house that has a horseshoe hanging above the doorway.

✧ Why is Friday the 13th considered to be bad luck?
The number 13 represents Judas Iscariot, the 13th to arrive at the Last Supper. Friday itself is unlucky because it was the day of Jesus’ crucifixion. Years ago, the British set out to disprove these superstitions. They named a new vessel HMS Friday, laid her keel on a Friday, and set sail on a Friday the 13th. Neither ship nor crew was heard from again…

✧ What is Tecumseh’s Curse?
The great Shawnee chief Tecumseh, who died fighting with Canada against the U.S. in the War of 1812, placed a curse on the American presidency: that every president elected in a year that ends in a zero would die during his term. Until the year 2000, every president elected in such a year did indeed die in office, with the exception of Reagan, who was shot but survived. Here’s how they died:
- William Henry Harrison: pneumonia, one month into his presidency
- Abraham Lincoln: assassinated at the beginning of his second term
- James Garfield: assassinated in 1881
- William McKinley: assassinated in 1901
- Warren Harding: died of ptomaine poisoning in 1923
- FDR: died of a cerebral hemorrhage at the beginning of his fourth term
- JFK: assassinated in 1963
- Ronald Reagan: survived an assassination attempt. Some say that in doing so, he broke the curse.

✧ Why do we say “bless you” after a sneeze?
The ancient Greeks believed a blessing might prevent evil from entering your body during its unguarded state while you sneeze. Our tradition comes from the Black Plague of 1665, when sneezing was believed to be one of its first symptoms. Infection meant certain death, and so the symptom was greeted with the prayer, “God bless you!”

The Four Last Things: The Church is clear about the last things that I must face. They are the same for all of us: death, judgement, heaven, hell. (Not purgatory. Purgatory means we’ve made it and are on the way to heaven!) Even the saints prayed for a happy death. If these are going to be our last things to contend with, and if holy saints think and pray about those things, shouldn’t we give them some consideration?

Saint Paul said, “Death where is your victory? Death where is your sting?” He said this because he knew Jesus provides the answer. “Death is swallowed up in victory!” Found in his first letter to the Corinthians, we know how things end if we are faithful and play our cards right: “But thanks be to God who gives us victory through our Lord Jesus Christ!” I do not presume that this will be given to me. Rather, I pray as the saints do, that this, through the grace of God, will be so. From St. John Henry Newman, newly canonized:

“O my Lord and Savior, support me in my last hour by the strong arms of your sacraments, and the fragrance of your consolations. Let your absolving words be said over me, and the holy oil sign and seal me; and let Your own Body be my food, and Your Blood my sprinkling; and let Your Mother Mary come to me, and my angel whisper peace to me, and your glorious saints and my own dear patrons smile on me, that in and through them all I may die as I desire to live, in Your Church, in Your faith, and in Your love. Amen. My Jesus, mercy.”

RESPECT LIFE MINISTRY
Gloria Bernard – 503.579.2562 – globernard2@gmail.com

From the USCCB’s monthly “Pray for Life” prayer guide:

“Today, there is a growing desire to control the timing of death, rather than entrusting this sacred hour to God and His loving plan for us. . . While those nearing the end of life may experience feelings of fear and anxiety, God’s grace abounds in these final moments. We are called to accompany those preparing to enter eternal life, recalling that Christ has walked this path before us and remains with us always!”

“There are many ways to tenderly care for a loved one approaching the transition from this life to the next. Learn more at usccb.org/endoflifecare.”

This is the last weekend to take home a Thanksgiving grocery bag with the requested menu items attached to it. If you are able, please take a bag, fill it, and return it to Holy Trinity no later than next weekend, November 17th.

We will be picking up over 200 turkeys on November 21st. Help with the purchase of these is always appreciated. A $25 donation will cover the cost with any remaining funds used to help purchase needed items at the Food Closet throughout the year.

As a reminder, there are three easy ways to donate:

➢ Place cash or a check in an envelope marked “Thanksgiving” and put it in the regular weekend collection.
➢ Take cash, check, or credit card to the Information Desk. They will ensure the donations are directed to our Thanksgiving drive.
➢ Donate online at h-t.org/donate and select “Food Closet—Thanksgiving Meals” from the drop-down list of giving options. Feel free to call the Parish Office if you have any questions.

As always, thank you for helping others enjoy this Thanksgiving holiday!

As we have been doing for the last two years, the first Friday of every month we host various health services groups. Friday, November 1st, was no exception. We had an emergency dental van from Medical Teams International; a mobile mammography van from Tuality Health Services; vision screening from The Lion’s Club; Oregon Health Plan enrollment representatives from OSU extension services and Tuatarian Hills Park and Rec presenting services they have available; and multiple Holy Trinity volunteers who assisted in various ways including some from our own Health Ministry who provided blood pressure and other screenings. All of this was offered at no cost to anyone who qualified! An amazing event that again demonstrates God’s Goodness!!!
Volunteers Needed!

Whether you are a school parent who needs Sharepoint hours or a parishioner who loves working with kids, we always have a need for volunteers! Here are some of our current volunteer needs:
