

Who is this for?

This group is designed for any woman whose life and relationships have been harmed by the porn addiction or sexual behavior of a loved one. This group offers support and encouragement for you.

Why should I go to this group?

1. Provides a confidential and safe environment for women who are in need of support and healing from the wounds of pornography in their relationships.
2. Teaches women to set healthy boundaries in their relationships.
3. Encourages women to focus on their relationship with Christ and how to walk with God through this difficult storm.
4. Helps women to reflect on how their own behaviors may be unhealthy and how they can heal and develop healthy behaviors that benefit them and those they love.

Whether you are married, single, divorced, separated, or a concerned family member, you are welcome and encouraged to join. Lets begin the conversation and strive together to re-build a future of sexual integrity and wholeness.
