

Good afternoon Holy Name:

Ketchikan has just gone to level 3 or High on it's Covid Risk Assessment which means we can only have 20 people in the building for masses. All masses will be live streamed via our Facebook page. As a result masses this weekend will be online, except for perhaps a reader and/or Eucharistic minister beginning today. Holy Communion will be available after every mass, including daily mass. We have some parishioners who do not have email, please let them know of this change. Thanks.

The new variant is more communicable than the original strain and indications from Europe believe it to be more deadly, thus we are taking every precaution. We'll let you know as soon as we can as things reopen. Hopefully people will enjoy watching Tom Brady in yet another Super Bowl but avoid the parties which will increase the spread.

The Knights of Columbus will paint the parish hall on Feb. 13. I may try to sand down the seating in the narthex for restaining as the seats have been kicked around a bit and can use some renewal.

Shelly's back, Pam did an awesome job, thank you!

Have a great week, you are awesome! We're going to get through this! Enjoy the game!
