Prayer of Spiritual Communion

My Jesus,
I believe that You are in the Blessed Sacrament.
I love You above all things, and I long for You in my soul. Since I cannot now receive You sacramentally, come at least spiritually into my heart.
As though you have already come, I embrace You and unite myself entirely to You; never permit me to be separated from You. Amen.

St. Alphonsus Liguori, 18th century.

Many a saint has gone months without receiving Holy Communion, yet always living in holy communion. Many a martyr has gone to her death without the grace of viaticum, yet constantly journeying with Jesus in a relationship or profound grace.

How do we live a spiritual union with God? We spend time reading His Word, allowing the wisdom of His words to fill us. We spend time talking to Him in holy conversation. We think about Him, filling our mind with His image. We long for Him, filling our heart with His love. We read about Him, allowing His desires to shape us, allowing His laws to guide us, confessing our sins to Him, and attempting to become one with Him. And all of this we can do right this very moment. Our spiritual life is lived out between Holy Communion, receiving from the last and preparing for the next Holy Communion. And if there is enough power in one Holy Communion to make us saints, then there is certainly enough power in the last one to get us to the next one. Whether the next one is the next day, the next week, or the next year, it makes no difference to an infinite God.
