Something to Think About...
You give but little when you give of your possessions. It is when you give of yourself that you truly give.

Father Taylor’s Reflection

Those who heal are also wounded. It is a fact of life that there are many occasions when we have to call upon others for a helping hand. This is true whether it be family, co-workers, neighbors, the church or friends. By doing this, not only do we come in touch with the fact that we need others, but also that others need us.

I have learned just how true this is after a couple of major surgeries. Being a priest I am always called upon to be of help to others both physically and spiritually, but to learn that the flock you serve is always ready to help you as well means a whole lot. The song Lean On Me is a good reminder that it is okay to be in the situation where you cannot help yourself and must rely on others.

The story of the Good Samaritan is not only about reaching out to others in need, but being readily willing and able to accept care from others. The fact that two other spiritual leaders walked on by without offering a helping hand is difficult and distressful, but it certainly can happen.

The gospel is full of these kinds of stories. They are human stories. They are our stories as we are forming a new Parish Community. We will have many more opportunities to both serve and be served. Who knows tomorrow we may be that person on the road.

Reflection on the Readings
Our God is about relationships. In the first reading, Moses reminds the Israelites that the laws, which are already in their hearts, keep them in right relationship with the God who loves them so much that they always find forgiveness.

Centuries later, along comes Jesus, whom Paul describes to the Colossians as the image of the invisible God, the very embodiment of this God of love.

In his parable about the good Samaritan, Jesus explains how the law of love overrules the letter of the law. Instead of answering the question Who is my neighbor? Jesus demonstrates that it is not about who is worthy of being loved, but rather loving as God loves, about being neighbor, about being the good Samaritan. Jesus wants us to continue his work as images of this God of love by loving all people, even those who seem to be our enemies.
