Cuando pensamos en un juez, pensamos en la severidad o en la justicia fría. Sala de audiencias y dramas de justicia criminal - incluso alguna cobertura de noticias de crímenes y escándalos - aman mostrando al delincuente como recibiendo sus justas recompensas, con el juez o el fiscal reflejando o suspirando en alivio.

Pero en el sentido bíblico, un juez es mucho más. Un buen juez es un educador, maestro y padre. Los buenos jueces promueven la vida sabia y el respeto por la autoridad y la ley. Sus herramientas son a veces misericordia, a veces penitencia, pero siempre motivadas por el amor.

Una mejor imagen para entender el papel del juez es un padre educando a su hijo. A veces la educación significa dejar que algo se deslice; a veces significa mantener al niño responsable. Ambos pueden ser expresiones de amor.

Hoy’s readings caution us against selfish passions that prompt us to judge. One who has been forgiven much but is then harsh with others will be severely punished—or as Sirach puts it, God “remembers their sins in detail.”

Mercy toward others is key to the Gospel message. Some think they are good Christians because they don’t steal and haven’t killed anyone. They may even be active in their parish but are highly critical of others.

Remember, as Jesus said: “The measure with which you measure will be measured out to you” (Matthew 7:2). And, “So will my heavenly Father do to you, unless each of you forgives his brother from his heart.”

—Fr. Mark Haydu, LC

For Reflection

How kind, patient, and forgiving am I on a regular basis? How kind, patient, and forgiving would others say I am?

“I say to you, not seven times but seventy-seven times”
(Matthew 18:22).
Dear Padre,

Pope Francis said, “Who am I to judge?” But aren’t we supposed to hold each other to a higher standard of living and judge actions as moral or sinful?

Pope Francis is not the only one to warn about judging. He is likely drawing his guidance from Jesus in Matthew 7:1–2. Both the Lord and the pope warn us about judging others and looking down upon those we consider “more sinful.” That sort of comparison can easily lead us to arrogance and hypocrisy.

The Lord teaches us there will be a final (or particular) judgment each of us will have to face. We will all have to stand before God and give an account of our actions. This teaches us that God is the only one qualified to fully know a person’s heart and intentions. If we begin to act as a judge of people, then we are playing God.

However, your question also implies that among believers we are to hold one another accountable in our Christian community. This is correct (Matthew 18:15–17). In the body of Christ, there is a responsibility to help and encourage each other to follow Jesus. Among the baptized, there should be the sharing of virtues and some accountability to the Church. We call one another higher, not through accusation, but through love and service. It is my duty to help fellow believers in their discipleship, as it is their duty to help me with mine. I find that I appreciate those who care enough about me to want to help me be a better Catholic, priest, or person. In community, we should build up in fellowship, not tear down in judgment.

Fr. Matthew Bonk, CSsR | Sundaybulletin@Liguori.org

A Word From Pope Francis

“We must not grow weary, then, of keeping watch over our thoughts and our attitudes, in order that we may be given even now a foretaste of the warmth and splendor of God’s Face—and this will be beautiful—which in eternal life we shall contemplate in all its fullness. Forward, thinking of this judgment which begins now, which has already begun. Forward, doing so in such a way that our hearts open to Jesus and to his salvation; forward without fear, for Jesus’ love is greater and if we ask forgiveness for our sins he will forgive us. This is what Jesus is like. Forward then with this certainly, which will bring us to the glory of heaven!”

The All Saints Conドルence Ministry

The All Saints Conドルence Ministry consoles and offers support to the bereaved of our parish. We offer support through phone calls, sending cards, preparing meals, hosting reception after services for the deceased and baking/buying desserts for receptions. The parish Mass of Remembrance and reception on All Soul's day is organized and hosted by the Conドルence Ministry. Following are the words from one of many thank you cards from supported families: “ On behalf of our family I would like to thank all the wonderful volunteers of the Conドルence Ministry. Without you it would have been very difficult and would not have turned out half as well. With you it flowed like a breeze of fresh air and took much of the pressure off the family. Blessings to all of you.”
