Gospel
Lk 6:17, 20–26
Pursuing a Higher Moral Standard

In the Sermon on the Mount, Jesus offers a rather radical call to holiness. Many of us have a hard time accepting that we are all called to such levels of morality. Yet, read to whom Jesus is speaking here. The Gospel says his audience is everyone: his apostles, his disciples, and a large number of other people from around the region. The Second Vatican Council offers a reminder when it says, “Fortified by so many and such powerful means of salvation, all the faithful, whatever their condition or state, are called by the Lord, each in his own way, to that perfect holiness whereby the Father himself is perfect” (Dogmatic Constitution on the Church [Lumen Gentium], 11).

A key to progress in any personal area is keeping hungry, never being fully satisfied. The same goes for our faith and relationship with our Lord. If our goal is to be comfortable, to follow the path of least resistance, then mediocrity is our goal. Jesus is anything but mediocre. He proposes to us a high moral standard that isn’t reached by coasting.

Our souls are hungry by design. They are never fully satisfied in this life because we desire the Infinite—we desire God.

Luckily, our Lord not only proposes a high moral ideal of holiness, but he also gives us his very Spirit so we can reach the heights he proposes. And so we can pray with St. Augustine, “Give me what you command, and command what you will.”

—Fr. Mark Haydu, LC

For Reflection
Do I consider myself a Catholic who is tending and working toward holiness?
Would Jesus consider me a Catholic who is tending and working toward holiness?

And raising his eyes toward his disciples Jesus said:
“Blessed are you who are poor, for the kingdom of God is yours.”

Luke 6:20

En el Sermón del Monte, Jesús ofrece un llamado bastante radical a la santidad. A muchos de nosotros nos cuesta aceptar que todos estamos llamados a tales niveles de moralidad. Sin embargo, lea a quien Jesús está hablando aquí. El Evangelio dice que su audiencia es de todos: sus apóstoles, sus discípulos y un gran número de personas de toda la región. El Concilio Vaticano II ofrece un recordatorio cuando dice: “Fortificado por tantos y tan poderosos los medios de salvación, todos los fieles, cualquiera que sea su condición o estado, son llamados por el Señor, cada uno a su manera, a esa santidad perfecta por la cual el Padre mismo es perfecto” (Constitución Dogmática sobre la Iglesia [Lumen Gentium], 11). Una clave para progresar en cualquier área personal es mantener el hambre, nunca estar completamente satisfecho. Lo mismo ocurre con nuestra fe y nuestra relación con nuestro Señor. Si nuestra meta es estar cómodos, seguir el camino de menor resistencia, entonces la mediocridad es nuestra meta. Jesús es cualquier cosa menos mediocre. Nos propone un alto estándar moral al que no se llega por inercia. Nuestras almas tienen hambre por diseño. Nunca están plenamente satisfechos en esta vida porque deseamos el Infinito, deseamos a Dios. Afortunadamente, nuestro Señor no solo propone un alto ideal moral de santidad, sino que también nos da su propio Espíritu para que podamos alcanzar las alturas que él propone. Y así podemos orar con san Agustín: “Dame lo que mandas y ordena lo que quieras”.
Dear Padre,

Why does the Church rightfully celebrate marriage, family, and religious life but neglect the equally important celibate single life? Perhaps if this vocation got the respect and attention it deserves, we'd have fewer people rushing into bad relationships and weak marriages.

Our vocation in life is a gift from God to become a living response to God’s love. God invites people to holiness and service through marriage, the single life, the priesthood, the diaconate or the religious life. Lest the single life be overlooked, the Catechism of the Catholic Church states, “We must also remember the great number of single persons who...are especially close to Jesus’ heart and therefore deserve the special affection and active solicitude of the Church, especially of pastors” (CCC 1658). It adds that the doors of homes “and of the great family which is the Church must be open to all of them.”

Like the gift of one’s vocation, celibacy also is a gift from God that’s offered back to the Church. Jesus himself chose celibacy, not because he disapproved of marriage or family life, but for the sake of the kingdom. He was wedded to his mission in bringing about a universal family that follows God’s will. To be celibate, then—whether as a single person or in consecrated life—isn’t upheld in and of itself, but for the reign of God.

Whatever the vocation and however it’s lived out, “all cooperate in the building up of the Body of Christ” in a spirit of equality and dignity according “to each one’s own condition and function” (Canon 208).

A Word from Pope Francis

No vocation is born of itself or lives for itself. A vocation flows from the heart of God and blossoms in the good soil of faithful people, in the experience of fraternal love. Did not Jesus say: “By this all men will know that you are my disciples, if you have love for one another”? —Day of prayer for vocations, May 11, 2014

Green Corner - Be More "Green" in 2019!

Simple swaps can make major impacts. You’ve ditched the plastic water bottle, now consider ditching the disposable coffee cup. An average American goes through about 500 disposable cups annually (coffee & fast food beverages w/lids & straws). Because they are made of paper that is more than 6.5 million trees cut to produce our American waste addiction.

Goal:
Bring your own cup to the coffee shop (some places give you a discount) or make coffee at home & bring it with you to-go. If you forget it at home choose a cafe that serves it in a mug. Take 5 to sit & enjoy your drink. You have just helped the environment!

Please, always recycle your church bulletin! Thank you.
