So if you are offering your gift at the altar and there remember that your brother has something against you, leave your gift there before the altar and go. First be reconciled to your brother, and then come and offer your gift. Matthew 5:23–24

How can we be in relationship with God if we cannot be in relationship with one another? How are we to love God if we do not love one another? The two Great Commandments go hand in hand – love of God and love of neighbor. Now that does not mean that you cannot become annoyed with someone. That is just human nature. But your love must overcome your annoyance. That command is absolute – love one another.

Go raibh síocháin Chríost a bheith in éineacht leat.
