

Deacon's Beacons

Remember those who are in prison, as though in prison with them, and those who are mistreated, since you also are in the body. Hebrews 13:3

We often dismiss those in prison as not worthy of our concern. After all, they must have done something to deserve being in jail. But haven't at least most of us done things that were not right? So why should we set ourselves up as judges? These are still children of God. Yes, maybe their relationship with God is damaged or even broken. But maybe our caring and our prayers and our compassion might reignite the spark of faith in their lives. Isn't that really what we should be doing? They are part of the Body of Christ. We are all in this together.

Go raibh síocháin Chríost a bheith in éineacht leat.
