

Deacon's Beacons

June 28, 2019

And he said, "Naked I came from my mother's womb, and naked shall I return. The LORD gave, and the LORD has taken away; blessed be the name of the LORD." Job 1:21

You enter the world with nothing. You can take nothing with you when you leave. Yet much of our lives are focused on getting "more." There is nothing wrong with hard work or wealth. But you must always keep two things in mind. First, if hard work and wealth pull you away from the people around you or from your commitment to God, then there is a problem. Second, if you think the wealth is all your doing, then you really are a fool. God is the beginning of all good things. Without God, you would not have the talents that allow you to earn your living. In fact, you would not even have breath to have a live. Do not be tempted by pride to think that you do not need God.

Go raibh síocháin Chríost a bheith in éineacht leat.

Deacon Mike