“Whoever receives one such child in my name receives me, but whoever causes one of these little ones who believe in me to sin, it would be better for him to have a great millstone fastened around his neck and to be drowned in the depth of the sea.”

Matthew 18:5–6

We have a responsibility as Christians. This is not a situation where you can do what you like. Your actions have consequences as a reflection of your faith. If your deed and your words agree, then your role as an evangelizer is doubly effective. But if your actions contradict your words, you stand as an image of Christian hypocrisy. You do far more damage by proclaiming one thing and living out something else than by living what you say you believe.
