“Whoever receives one such child in my name receives me, but whoever causes one of these little ones who believe in me to sin, it would be better for him to have a great millstone fastened around his neck and to be drowned in the depth of the sea.”

Matthew 18:5–6

There is a great penalty for leading people away from God. Are we teaching our children to love and respect God? Are we even teaching them to love and respect those around them? St. John tells us that, if we cannot love those whom we can see, how can we love the God that we cannot see? The best way to teach people about God is to love them.
