The LORD is near to all who call on him,
to all who call on him in truth.
He fulfills the desire of those who fear him;
he also hears their cry and saves them. Psalm 145:18–19

Why do you expect God to come in a raging wind or in thunder to save you? Why could He not save you through a simple gesture of kindness by a neighbor or even a stranger? The most profound act of salvation came in the death of Jesus on the Cross. Do you think that people recognized the Hand of God in that? Then why did the whole world, or at least all of Jerusalem, embrace Jesus as Lord? Look to Elijah and seek God in the quiet whispers of the wind.
