

Deacon's Beacons

September 15, 2020

The God who made the world and everything in it, being Lord of heaven and earth, does not live in temples made by man, nor is he served by human hands, as though he needed anything, since he himself gives to all mankind life and breath and everything.
Acts 17:24–25

Many of us are being faced with an emotional issue. In order for our Church to survive, some buildings that we have historically used may need to be closed. But God is not contained in this building or that. To think in that manner limits the glory of God. We are the Church, not the buildings in which we gather. Yes, they serve the purpose of bringing us together for worship. We must never lose sight of the fact that Jesus Himself said that wherever two or three are gathered, there He is also.
