

Deacon's Beacons

February 1, 2021

(D)o not be anxious about anything, but in everything by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known to God. And the peace of God, which surpasses all understanding, will guard your hearts and your minds in Christ Jesus.
Philippians 4:6–7

It is difficult to not be anxious nowadays. We are surrounded by this terrible virus. We are divided and torn apart as a nation. But we are still one people under God. We are all the children of God regardless of our differences. We are still loved by God even when sickness and disease are all around us. We must believe that God will be faithful to His word. Yes, bad things happen in this world. But that is not an indication that God does not exist or that He does not care about us. We have free will and so sin enters the world and distorts the natural order that God intended. We must hold fast to the hope that He will see us through these worldly storms.

Go raibh síocháin Chríost a bheith in éineacht leat.

Deacon Mike