

Deacon's Beacons

For to me to live is Christ, and to die is gain. Philippians 1:21

This is probably one of the most challenging concepts of our faith. What it is saying is that we look forward to death. That may be true in a sense but our human nature revolts at such a thought. However, the first part of the passage may hold a better clue. It is saying that when we live, we live for Christ. It calls us to live true Christian lives and not just in name only. It calls us to a radical conversion of our lives to conform with the precepts of the Gospel. That prepares us for the gain that comes with death.

Go raibh síocháin Chríost a bheith in éineacht leat.
