“Beware of practicing your righteousness before other people in order to be seen by them, for then you will have no reward from your Father who is in heaven.” Matthew 6:1

We are rapidly approaching the end of Lent. Tomorrow begins the Sacred Triduum. It is serendipitous and interesting that the passage for today is taken from the Gospel of Ash Wednesday. It is a good reminder now and at all times that we do not do good things to impress other people. If that is why we do them, we have it all wrong. We do good to others, as surreptitiously as possible, because we follow Jesus' command to love one another. That should be our only motivator. However, if our example leads others to Christ, there is nothing wrong with that.
