

Deacon's Beacons

April 22, 2021

Against you, you only, have I sinned
and done what is evil in your sight,
so that you may be justified in your words and blameless in your judgment. Psalm 51:4

We all sin. If you think otherwise, you are fooling only yourself. What we need to do is try to avoid sin. We cannot do that on our own. We have to rely on the grace of God. Our sin makes the mercy of God that much more precious. That does not mean that we have license to sin knowing that God will forgive us. We will not be perfect but we are still responsible for trying to avoid sin.

Resurrexit sicut dixit!
