Twenty-Sixth Sunday in Ordinary Time

Here it is again, that marvelous story Jesus tells of Dives---which means “rich man,” and is a made-up name for the guy Jesus purposely wanted to keep nameless---and Lazarus, whom Jesus names many times in his story, just in case we missed the point that he who was ignored in life goes into heaven with his name preserved for eternal memory.

Speaking of names, don't miss this: Dives ignored Lazarus, even as he begged right outside his door in the most desperate of circumstances. But once Dives was in eternal torment, he, all of sudden, remembered the name of that beggar—whom I'll bet he didn't call by name a single time in his life on earth.

That really gives the lie to what we often say about those who are poor: I don't know them, and I can't help those I don't know. I'll bet Dives made that same excuse, but it turns out he DID know his name all along. Lazarus was so familiar to him, in fact, that he took his name into hell and tried to use it to get himself out.

Talk about privilege. Dives was in hell, for heaven's sake, and he still thought he could snap his fingers and make Lazarus---comforted forever in the very bosom of Abraham---his errand boy.

The thing is, Dives made his own destiny of torment. He built it, day by day, through his willful ignorance and malignant neglect of the man dying at his door.

How are you building your destiny? First Timothy exhorts us to “compete well in the faith.” Okay, I'm putting on patience, gentleness and faith. See you at the finish line. Game on.

How are you competing for the destiny of life on high with Christ Jesus?

Vigésimo-sexto Domingo de Tiempo Ordinario

Y de nuevo se nos presenta esta maravillosa historia que Jesús cuenta acerca de Dives—que significa “hombre rico,” es el nombre que me inventé para este tipo que Jesús al parecer quiere dejar sin nombre—y Lázaro, quien Jesús nombra muchísimas veces en esta historia, solo por si a caso no captamos el punto que indica que el que fue ignorado en vida entrará al cielo con la memoria de su nombre preservada para la eternidad.

Hablando de nombres, que no se te pase esto: Dives ignoraba a Lázaro, aun cuando éste mendingaba justo afuera de su puerta en las circunstancias más deplorables. Pero una vez que Dives entra en el tormento eterno, de repente se acuerda del nombre de aquel pordiosero a quien tal vez ni una vez llamó por nombre durante toda su vida.

Eso sí que revela la mentira que siempre decimos acerca de aquellos que son pobres: no los conozco, y no puedo ayudar a aquellos que no conozco. Apuesto a que Dives usaba la misma excusa, pero al parecer SIEMPRE supo su nombre. Lázaro le era tan familiar, de hecho, que se llevó su nombre al infierno y trató de usarlo para salirse de ahí.

No cabe duda que así es ser privilegiado. Vaya, hasta en el infierno Dives pensaba que podía tronar los dedos y hacer que Lázaro—consolado por la eternidad en los mismísimos brazos de Abraham, fuera su mandadero.

El caso es que Dives construyó su propio destino de tormento. Lo construyó, día a día, por medio de su deliberada ignorancia y negligencia malvada hacia hombre que se estaba muriendo en su puerta. ¿Cómo estás construyendo tu destino? Primero Timoteo nos anima a “competir bien en la fe.” Bueno, yo me estoy vistiendo de paciencia, gentileza y fe. Nos veremos en la meta. Que empiecen los juegos.

¿Cómo estás compitiendo para la meta que es alcanzar una vida más alta con Jesucristo?
