

HEALTH NEWS REGARDING BISHOP STEPHEN E. BLAIRE

I regret to inform you that Bishop Stephen E. Blaire has recently been diagnosed with a squamous cell cancer in his lymph node. It is an aggressive, but curable form of cancer. He has begun radiation treatment and will also need limited chemotherapy treatments. The good news is that a recent pet scan determined that the cancer has not spread to other areas of his body. Bishop Blaire remains hopeful that by the grace of God, and under the care of his doctors, the best possible outcome will be achieved.

Please include Bishop Blaire in your personal prayer and in the Prayer of the Faithful at your upcoming masses.

For Bishop Blaire: that God will strengthen and renew him, and fill him with his healing love.
