OFFICE REPORT

As you know we now have our new full color bulletin. Mary is doing a great job setting it up every week. It really looks wonderful.

We have been very busy in the office believe it or not. People are calling with all kinds of questions and we are doing our best to keep everyone informed with our newspaper ad and social media. We have been updating our Facebook page and webpage every day trying to get you the latest news from the Bishop and from Father Michael about what is going on in the diocese and in our parish.

We've put up a barrier to keep people from walking straight into the office. It's for parishioner safety as well as our own. There is hand sanitizer at both entrances to the church and in the office. We ask everyone going into church to please use it before entering the church proper. We've all got masks but have not started using them yet.

All of us here are very grateful the generosity our parishioners have shown us, with the food, the masks that have been made for us, and the many other things that the people here have done. It really means so much.

Father Woods and the office are here for you if you need us for anything. We are just a phone call away.
