St. Mary's Visitation Preschool

January 18- Mrs. Dee Sundstrom

Last Week:

-The kids watched a part of "The Prince of Egypt" each day.

-We conducted two experiments on Wednesday which involved the effects of dish soap on pepper filled water and colored milk. The pepper divided like the Red Sea and the color in the milk exploded similar to Moses turning the waters red.

-We measured the length and height of pictures of dinosaurs and sorted them according to which ones were the Longest, Tallest, and Shortest.

-We played with many plastic toy dinosaurs without fighting, biting, or growling at school.

This Week:

Number: 18 Letter: Nn

Noah=Noah's Ark & Nets

Half Day on Monday, January 18

-We will focus on all of the animals that Noah fit into the arc.

-We will make more animal masks!!!

-The kids will cut out animal pictures and glue them on the Ark according to their beginning letter sounds

-We will also be learning about nets and catching fish.

-The kids will hear the song,

"I Will Make You Fishers of Men."

Next Week:

Number: 19 Letter: Oo

Opposites, Odd Numbers, Otters, Ostriches, and Octopi

Dear Preschool Parents,

Remember that there is a half day of school tomorrow and that we will be dismissing at 11:20.

Since we have not seen much snow (relative to my youth ).....I am not focussing on a snow theme yet....Maybe by the time we get to the letter Ss (???)

I am excited to do a beginning sound animal hunt this week. We have several plastic and stuffed animals in the classroom, but the kids can also bring toy/stuffed animals --that do not make loud sounds--each day next week. We will be sorting them.

Looking farther ahead, February 12 is the Friday that we have a half day of school before Valentine's Day. This looks like a good opportunity to have our Valentine's Day party. Unless I hear of a good argument of why we should not have our party that day, we will go with February 12. (This way, maybe Mrs. Sundstrom gets a nap that afternoon.)

Also, it looks as though Zoom Parent-Teacher Conferences will occur on Thursday, March 4 starting at 1:00pm. I will send out a Preschool Report a few days before Conferences. Remember that I am always available for a "conference", after school via Zoom or phone call, whenever you have a concern.

Your Preschoolers are a pleasure this year. It is a privilege to get to know them when there are smaller numbers in class.
