I woke early Easter Monday, tired from Holy Week and Easter yet filled with great joy and happiness that words could not explain. As I sat quietly before morning prayer my mind was drawn to my first Holy Week & Easter at the Apple Valley Catholic Community. "There it is" I said to myself – the source of my joy and happiness on this Easter Monday.

It was then that I began to reflect on Holy Week and Easter Sunday Masses, and my joy and happiness increased. From Palm Sunday to the Triduum and Easter Sunday I could feel the heightened joy in our community. I could feel the heightened joy in myself. I could feel and see the unity and community within our collaborative as we came together to celebrate this sacred and Holy Week together, not as two churches but as one – one community unity in our love for our Lord Jesus Christ. What an honor and privilege it was for me to be part of this community, with each of you, during this time. Truly the highlight of my first year here in this wonderful community that I come to love. A week that I will remember for a long time to come.

And yet at the same time I was reminded of all the work that went into preparing for this sacred week. So many in our community came together to volunteer their time, their talents, and their love. The truth is the volunteers/ministers reached beyond 125 of our parishioners. For all of those who sang in the choir, played instruments, decorated both Churches, ordered the flowers, planning and helping at the Holy Thursday night dinner, served at the Masses and services, developed the liturgy, chose to have the feet washed and washed others, and the many others who made sure every detail was covered were the contributors to a successful sacred week. And yet I cannot stop there. I must extend to the staff a thank you for all the work added to your already heavy work load. Each of you stepped up. A thank you as well to everyone who attended Masses and services during this sacred week. You did so with such joy and reverence and with such a sense of community. The number of parishioners and visitors that came out was truly awe-inspiring.

And so, with that stated I want to say to everyone THANK YOU! Thank you for all the work you did prior to Holy Week, your full and active participation during Holy Week and for coming together as one community united in our love for God, Jesus Christ our Lord, the Holy Spirit and love for each other. Thank you everyone for making this Holy Week a special and joyful week for me as I shared it with each of you. How grateful I am that He, our Lord and Savior is Risen. And yet at the same time how grateful I am to be part of this community, this Apple Valley Catholic Community rich in unity and love for each other. THANK YOU everyone!

Be assured of my prayers as we continue our 50-days of Easter.

God Bless You,
Fr. Jeff

Is Our Wind Favorable?

Sailors need a favorable wind to get them to their port, but no wind is favorable if they don't know to what port they're headed. Same is true for ministry; if we don't know have a vision, or know the core purpose for our ministry, then all we really have is a program, and a program is not really ministry. This evening will begin a journey to identify our port – our vision and core purpose – for our youth ministry, and to evaluate if our wind – what we do and offer – is favorable.

Greetings & Thank You from Rome!

Fr. Walter has enjoyed his trip to Rome, a gift made possible from so many parishioners upon his retirement. This photo tells it all! Thank you!

At the meeting of the Collaborative Pastoral Council on April 30, 2019, the following 'resolution' was adopted.

Resolution: Be it resolved that we, the members at large of the Collaborative Pastoral Council, for Parishes of Saint Elizabeth, and Saint Isidore, approve and endorse unanimously, the following statement of commendation:

That we express with prayer and enthusiasm our gratitude for the Liturgies of the Triduum. It is our observation that every aspect of these Liturgies was conducted with the highest level of professionalism and attention.

We acknowledge the performances of the Choirs; the homilies; the design and printing of Liturgical Guides; the decoration of both Churches; the dedication and performance of numerous Ministries. In combination, we believe these aspects of the Liturgy, which were carried out so well, led to a prayerful and joyful participation in the Triduum by all the faithful. We acknowledge especially Father Jeff and Deacon Charlie for their roles in leading us through each of the Liturgical Celebrations.

We commend the hard work and dedication of the staff and so many parishioners who coalesced in their efforts to make this Easter the glorious and joyful experience it truly was.

Collaborative Pastoral Council: Ex Officio Members: Fr. Jeff Archer, Deacon Charlie Cornell, Diahne Goodwin. Members at Large: David Winders, Edward Kelly, Hayley Reynolds, Steve Ryan, Valerie Pietry, Maria Mpelkas.
