The Pastor's Corner:

The readings for the Solemnity of the Body and Blood of Christ urge us to see the Eucharistic meal as an experience of one another. The wheat and grapes embrace the entire planet as they become bread and wine; the bread and wine embrace all creation as they become the Body and Blood of Jesus. The Genesis passage has Abram returning home from a successful battle. He meets Melchizedek, the priest-king of Salem; the two share a meal of bread and wine and so form a bond by which they commit themselves to mutual obligations. Paul, in today's passage from the First Letter to the Corinthians, warns against situations where some hoard the food and drink while others go hungry. Paul reminds the Christian community that Christ's words were "Do this in remembrance of me" (verse 24). An authentic celebration of the Eucharist occurs when those participating truly put on Christ. This means mirroring the self-giving of Jesus in their daily lives. It is only by providing for the needs of all that Corinthians of old and Christians of today genuinely celebrate the Lord's Supper. The gospel passage describes the multiplication of the loaves. Luke places this miracle immediately after Jesus' preaching about the kingdom of God, a kingdom where the needs of all are satisfied. Luke also makes it clear that this miracle has a eucharistic dimension. Christ follows the pattern found at the Last Supper and on the road to Emmaus: taking, blessing and thanking, breaking, and giving. The Eucharist is not a private devotion separate from the rest of our lives. In eating and drinking, we commit ourselves to serve Jesus Christ who is manifested in the needs and problems of our brothers and sisters around the world. Our Rural Life Celebration reminds us of our solidarity with farmers and cattlemen across the Midwest who might still be suffering from the difficult winter and spring. We keep all those who are suffering from the stresses of life in our prayers.
