The Pastor's Corner:

In our scripture readings for this weekend, Paul prays for the community that he founded: May they allow God to complete the good work begun in them. Christian living is a lifetime pilgrimage that demands the enabling power of grace. All is grace: call, response, fidelity, and salvation. Yet grace does not eliminate human responsibility; we must actively cooperate in hearing the call and making the response. Paul goes on to say that we should look forward eagerly to the Second Coming of the Lord. Zacchaeus is described by Luke as a wealthy man. His money came from collecting tolls in Jericho, the major customs collection center for goods entering Palestine from the East. Not always honest in his business practices, Zacchaeus (whose name ironically means "righteous one") commanded little respect with the people. Consequently, those observing protested when Jesus announced his intention to spend the night at "a sinner's house." Jesus' secret weapon in converting sinners is not scolding or put-downs but love and friendship. Zacchaeus obviously responds; there is an immediate change of heart. Zacchaeus says that he will give four hundred percent restitution! Jesus says, "Today salvation has come to this house ..."
