The Pastor's Corner:

Fidelity, steadfast faithfulness, is an ongoing challenge to Christians and all people of goodwill. This virtue is essential to marriage and family, church and religion, business and politics. Today's readings urge believers to practice fidelity. In the first half of the fifth century B.C., an anonymous prophet (Malachi simply means "my messenger") addressed the concerns of the Jewish people. Today's verses, for example, speak to the age-old question of good and evil. On the Day of the Lord, fire will rain down upon the evildoers, and the just will enjoy the healing rays of the sun. The prophet's advice is that all prepare for this day by remaining faithful to the Lord's ways. Luke wrote his gospel after the destruction of Jerusalem (A.D. 70) was an accomplished fact. In today's section, however, he presents Jesus as a prophetic figure who exhorts his followers to fidelity and who announces the destruction of the Temple. Luke divides this section into three parts: (1) the fate of the Temple (verses. 5-7); (2) signs before the end (verses. 8-11); and (3) advice for coping with persecution (verses. 12-19). Victory is promised to those who remain faithful: "But not a hair of your head will perish" (Luke 21:18). In a different time, our challenge remains the same -- to see our trials against the background of Jesus. In the crucible of everyday life we must embrace the cross, history's classic example of faithful love and triumphant victory.

~Father Colletti
