*"I am the resurrection and the life;
whoever believes in me, even if he dies, will live,
and everyone who lives and believes in me will never die.
Do you believe this?"
She said to him, "Yes, Lord.
I have come to believe that you are the Christ, the Son of God, the One who is coming into the world." ~ John 11:25-27*

Prayer of Trust

O Christ Jesus, when all is darkness and we feel our weakness and helplessness, give us the sense of Your presence, Your love, and Your strength. Help us to have perfect trust in Your protecting love and strengthening power, so that nothing may frighten or worry us, for, living close to You, we shall see Your hand, Your purpose, Your will through all things.
~St. Ignatius of Loyola, 1491-1556

The Pastor's Corner:

In today's Word of God, we deal with the very real problems of anxiety and hopelessness. How fitting during this time of the covid19 pandemic. When life's shocks paralyze us, when self-pity becomes the expression of our misery, then we must call upon the God who becomes involved in human tragedy. This is the God whose concern for the living is a manifestation of life itself. Preaching in the aftermath of the destruction of Jerusalem, Ezekiel personally experienced the frustration of that of an exile. He even quotes their expression of despair: "Our bones are dried up, and our hope is lost" (Ezekiel 37:11). His response is a vision in which he is transported to a valley littered with dry human bones. At the prophet's word, the breath/spirit/wind brings the bodies to life. For God's despondent people this means that Yahweh will call them back to new life in their own land of Israel. John recounts the raising of Lazarus as a sign that transforms the tragedy into hope. Lazarus' illness and death are the occasion for the manifestation of God's glory. Faith goes hand in hand with glory. To accept Jesus is to make oneself open to that whole process of transformation. The disciple glorifies God just as the Son did by his death and resurrection.

To experience the presence of God makes hope possible and life livable. Breathing life into the weary downtrodden is in the tradition of Ezekiel; caring for the elderly and the shut-ins is in the spirit of Paul; alleviating hunger for the world's starving poor follows the Gospel of John. All these deeds manifest the glory of God.

~ Father Colletti

Spiritual Communion

*My Jesus, I believe that you are present in the most Blessed Sacrament. I love You above all things and I desire to receive You into my soul. Since I cannot now receive You sacramentally, come at least spiritually into my heart. I embrace You as if You were already there and unite myself wholly to You. Never permit me to be separated from You. Amen.
~ composed by St. Alphonsus Liguori in the 18th century:*

Blessed Palms

Looking Ahead to Palm Sunday: There will be blessed palms in the main entrance of the churches in St. Adrian and OLG. Palms for St. Anthony will be available at the garage entrance at the rectory.
