An Adult Christ at Christmas

AUTHOR: Raymond E. Brown

PUBLISHER: The Liturgical Press

The infancy narratives in Matthew and Luke represent a developed christology proclaimed through a reflection on the origin of Jesus. According to Father Brown these appealing stories of Jesus' birth and early life are the entire gospel story in miniature. An Adult Christ at Christmas can be used effectively as an introduction for study clubs and adult education courses. It will be helpful for the clergy and other teachers at Christmas by giving examples of how the infancy stories might be presented and preached. The fruits of modern scientific approach to the infancy narratives, here presented in simple format, are intended for a wide-ranging audience in search of inspiration for their spiritual life and for the celebration of the feast of Christmas. The Three Days: Parish Prayer in the Paschal Triduum (Revised Edition)

AUTHOR: Gabe Huck

PUBLISHER: Lit. Training Pub.

The Three Days is a completely rewritten, expanded version of the book that for ten years helped parishes prepare the liturgies of Holy Thursday, Good Friday and the Easter Vigil.

Those responsible for parish liturgy and those who minister at the liturgy will find here an approach to the spirit and the practicalities of the Triduum. The three principal liturgies are discussed from every angle, but all the details do not obscure a strong sense of each liturgy's structure and flow. The book makes its greatest contribution as the author presents these days, and their liturgies within them, as the deed of each church, a single deed with many moments.(1992) ISBN: 0-929650-51-4 BOOK#14.020

The Year of Faith: a Bible Study Guide for Catholics

By: Fr. Mitch Pacwa, S.J.

The Liturgical Year: Its history & its meaning after the reform of the liturgy

AUTHOR:

Adolf Adam

PUBLISHER: Pueblo Pub.

Co.

The liturgical year emanates and derives its growth from the passion and resurrection of Christ. The present year enumerated in the Roman Calendar is the sum of the feasts that have found their set place in the annual cycle. For each of these feasts and seasons Dr. Adam gives an individual historical-liturgical account. His basic aim is to explain to the church the theological and spiritual substance of the liturgical year against the background of its historical development. (1981)

A Risen Christ in Eastertime

AUTHOR: Raymond E. Brown

PUBLISHER: The Liturgical Press

This book stresses how the treatment of the resurrection in an individual Gospel fits the theology and plan of that Gospel. Such a stress enables those who have followed the daily readings from the Gospel of John in the liturgy of Lent to appreciate how John's resurrection story continues the themes of those passages and thus gives a magnificently consistent picture of the victorious Christ touching the lives of those who believe in him. Similarly the treatment given here to the resurrection stories of Mark, of Matthew and of Luke will have particular resonance in the liturgical year devoted to readings from the respective Synoptic Gospel. This book will enhance the appreciation of the resurrection on the part of those who give the Church's liturgical calendar a major role in the spiritual life. Daily reflections on the Gospel passages used in the Sunday and Daily Masses of the liturgical year is an attempt to join the studying and the praying of the Scriptures into the kind of biblical spirituality which has become the foundation for the Church's proclamation and preaching of the good news. The pattern followed includes: a few short verses of Scripture taken from the Gospel of the day; a reflection in the light of current biblical scholarship as it applies to one's growth in faith; a question that can serve as a springboard for private meditation; and a prayer which pulls together the various strands of thought that have been covered and serves to summarize the theme of the Gospel passage under consideration.
