

HYMN SUGGESTIONS FOR SUNDAYS AND SOLEMNITIES

182 The following hymn suggestions are offered to assist those responsible for the selection of music for the eucharist on Sundays, solemnities and feasts of the Lord which are celebrated on Sunday. Music is suggested for the entrance procession, the presentation of the gifts, and the recessional of the presider and ministers. The suggestions are based on the assigned scripture texts for each Sunday, solemnity or feast and are offered with a view to the establishment of common repertoire.

The use of these suggested hymns must always be determined with the repertoire of the assembly in mind. The suggestions are not meant to be exhaustive. Other hymns may also be very appropriate.

Communion Processional Music

183 Hymns selected for the communion procession always express the joy of the assembly in their communion with the Lord and their sharing in the Lord's death and resurrection. A hymn with a well-known refrain or a setting of Psalm 23 or Psalm 34 is most appropriate during communion. Because of the limited repertoire that is suitable for the communion procession, suggestions are not made here. For appropriate music, see the Liturgical and Topical Index (no. 702) under the title: Communion Processional Hymns and the Biblical Index (no. 697) for psalm settings.

EASTER VIGIL

The liturgy of the Triduum continues with the celebration of the Easter Vigil, which begins after sunset on Holy Saturday evening and concludes before dawn on Easter Sunday morning.

Liturgy of Light

After the Easter candle is lit, the procession enters the church. One of the following settings of the acclamation is sung three times:

75A, 75B, or 75C

Following the Exsultet, all respond by singing Amen.
follows 75C

Liturgy of the Word

The proclamation of seven readings from the Old Testament is recommended. For pastoral reasons, some may be omitted. However, the third reading (from Exodus) is never omitted.

After each reading there is a period of silence, a responsorial psalm, and a prayer. The following responsorial psalms are sung following the respective Old Testament readings:

Genesis 1.1–2.2	Ps 104 or Ps 33	no. 76 no. 77
Genesis 22.1–18	Ps 16	no. 78
Exodus 14.15–15.1	Exod 15	no. 79

The canticle follows immediately after the proclamation.

The reading concludes: ... the Israelites sang this song to the Lord.

Isaiah 54.5–14	Ps 30	no. 80
Isaiah 55.1–11	Is 12	no. 81
Baruch 3.9–15, 32–4.4	Ps 19	no. 82
Ezekiel 36.16–17, 18–28	Ps 51 or Ps 42–43	no. 83 no. 84

Following the last Old Testament reading, all stand to sing the Glory to God.

When the following feasts fall on a Sunday, they replace the liturgy of Ordinary Time that is scheduled for that particular Sunday. However, in Advent (December 8) and in the Lenten season (March 19 and 25), they are transferred to the following Monday; if they fall in Holy Week or the Easter octave, they are transferred to the Monday after the Easter octave.
