“Seek what is above”

There is a tinge of narcissism in the rich man’s words in the Gospel parable we hear today. In a matter of only a few sentences, he refers to himself about twelve times using, “I,” “me,” “myself,” or even “you” when he speaks to himself. It’s perfectly normal to be concerned or worried about ourselves, our future, or our own financial well-being. But the Gospel message calls us to go beyond that – to go beyond ourselves. We are being asked to look toward the future. Not just a few years ahead, but towards eternity. When we look at our own lives in relation to eternity, in relation to Heaven and Hell, we must look beyond our own navels and look toward what is above. St. Paul tell us today, “Put to death, then, the parts of you that are earthly: immorality, impurity, passion, evil desire, and the greed that is idolatry.” We can certainly make idols out of a lot of things – material goods, ourselves, our addictions, etc. When we become slaves to these things, we must remember that our lives are “hidden with Christ in God.” It is here that we truly move beyond ourselves and our greed and toward Christ whose charity impels us to go to one another and toward those riches that matter to God.

Peace,
Fr. Jason Johnston

Jesus urges us to be rich in what matters to God. The psalmist warns us against hardening our hearts. Are our hearts open to what really matters?

Thought for discussion for the ride home

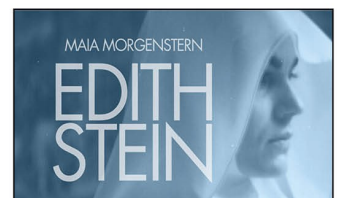

In the Gospel today, a distinction is made between the riches of this life and the riches that matter to God. What are those riches that matter to God? And have you been storing them up?

FORMED PICK

Edith Stein

Love Conquers All Fear

Watch the powerful portrayal of Edith Stein: a Jewish philosopher, Catholic convert, and Carmelite martyr. It captures the interior struggles of this extraordinary woman who transformed her sufferings in Christ.

"I really did not know much about this saint. It is a very moving film and I want to learn more."

RELIGIOUS EDUCATION REGISTRATION

Before you know it your kids will be back in school and summer vacation will be a thing of the past. Not long after that our Kindergarten through 12th grade religious ed. classes will begin (September 16th to be exact). The teaching of our Catholic Faith to your kids is very important. In order for them to appreciate their Catholic Faith and to practice that Faith, they need to know their Faith. You as parents are the primary teachers of the Catholic Faith to your kids, while we here at St. Joseph do our best to help you in that role of teaching your kids. Please take five minutes today and register your children for religious ed. classes. The forms are in the gathering space of the church. Registration is $20 per child or $30 for the whole family. Thank you.
