Spirit and Power

St. Paul tells the Corinthians “When I came to you [...] my message and my proclamation were not with persuasive words of wisdom, but with a demonstration of Spirit and power.” St. Paul is giving us a glimpse of the power of God working in His own life. By his own admission he was scared himself – “I came to you in weakness and fear and much trembling.” All of us experience fear in our lives from time to time. We think that it is impossible for us to be able to fulfill whatever God is calling us to. But St. Paul is telling the Corinthians and us that God can do anything with us. We may have our own sins, weaknesses, and fears – St. Paul certainly did – But God works through all of that and gives us the gifts of His Spirit and power when we need it for His purposes. God has a plan for each of us and will give us the graces we need to fulfill those purposes. It’s important to remember that it’s not for our purpose, but His. We ask in the Lord’s Prayer, often that “Thy will be done.” This is easier said than done. It takes humility and a reliance on God. But this is where and when the grace that we need is given, in following God’s will. St. Paul, a sinner and persecutor of Christians, became a great missionary and apostle. Today, let us look toward the Lord and ask for the grace we need to fulfill His purposes in our lives.

Peace,
Fr. Jason Johnston

REFLECTION

When Jesus heard about the illness of His friend, Lazarus, He responded, "This illness is not to end in death; rather it is for God's glory, that through it the Son of God may be glorified." Every aspect of our lives - our gifts as well as our sufferings - can, if surrendered to Christ, lead to blessing for others and ourselves.

PICK OF THE WEEK

Lectio: Peter

Peter and the Keys -
The Primacy of the Church

Dr. Tim Gray takes us back to the Old Testament and the significance of the imagery the keys had in the kingdom of King David. From there we can see how Jesus was restoring and perfecting his Church in giving Peter the "keys of the kingdom."

Prayer to St. Michael

Saint Michael the Archangel, defend us in battle
 Be our protection against the wickedness and snares of the devil;
 May God rebuke him, we humbly pray;
 And do thou, O Prince of the Heavenly Host,
 by the power of God,
 thrust into hell Satan
 and all evil spirits who prowl about the world seeking the ruin of souls
