We welcome the Knights and their families to the 8:30am Mass as they come to celebrate Corporate Communion.

Saint Joseph Pignatelli – Patron saint of vocations. Joseph worked to preserve the books and archives of the Society and to aid his Jesuit brother spiritually and materially. He was an “example of manly and vigorous holiness”.

NOVEMBER – PRAY FOR VOCATIONS!

Today is the thirty third Sunday of ordinary time. A week from now we shall come to the end of this the liturgical calendar year C. So, the readings of this Sunday point to "the end of time" and our victory in Christ our king. It is deliberate and wise! This is in order to set us in the finish line mode of the church's liturgical year.

Apart from announcing the end of time, the readings continue to encourage us to persevere till the end, when Christ shall finally rule as the universal king of glory. Liturgically speaking, we shall get there next Sunday. Let us endure until we triumph over all the forces of this world.

In today's first reading, Malachi speaks of the day of the Lord. This reading simply serves as an encouragement to us in order to continue patiently in good works as John reminds us that: "All these call for patience, endurance and faithfulness" (Rev 13,10).

In the second reading, Paul encourages us to keep working hard. This is in order to earn both our earthly and heavenly living. The Church does not in any way encourage laziness or idleness. Hard work yields good and enduring fruits. Hard work makes a good Christian. It abhors laziness and idleness.

In the gospel, Christ spoke of the imminent hardships and persecution before, during and after the destruction of the temple. However, He concludes with these encouraging words: "Your endurance will win you your lives."

Finally, today in our families, offices, businesses, careers and in our world, at large, we face difficulties that at times question our faith. However, if we endure all these patiently as Christ tells us, we shall have enough reasons to smile at the end, and of course, "the sun of righteousness will shine on us with healing in its rays."
