Dear Archangel Gabriel School Families, Faculty, and Staff,

This is indeed a challenging time for all. Archangel Gabriel School, in particular, has had formidable and seemingly continuous challenges with teacher and staff availability due to leaves of absence and necessary quarantining. I am writing to thank you all for the manner in which you have handled the fluidity and the need for virtual learning this week. The commitment to our students is truly praiseworthy. In particular, I would like to commend Dr. Chris Assetta and Mrs. Cathy Miltzer for their creative and diligent work to continue to provide quality education at AGS.

Having said that, I ask that you remain patient and open to adjustment and change. It remains our steadfast commitment to provide in person instruction for our students. It is our intention to have the students back in school on Monday, December 7th and to remain open until our Christmas break begins on December 18th. However, there may be necessary changes in the students' schedules and possibly teacher assignments as we continue to adapt to the uncertainties each new day brings. We will do our best to communicate these changes to all that are affected by them in a timely manner.

I also ask that you remain vigilant in following all health and safety protocols and continue to pray for a swift return to normalcy for all. Please do not hesitate to reach out to contact me with any questions or concerns. I can be reached at sharon@srcespgh.org.

Sincerely,
Sharon Loughran Brown
