

Tips and Tricks for Ordering Your Textbooks

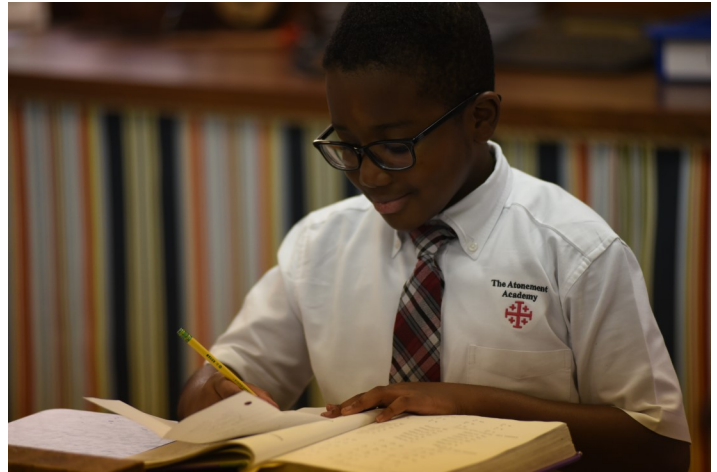

As of this year, we have ended our relationship with Follett, therefore you will no longer be able to order textbooks through their website. Since several titles were not available through Follett, and the number of families using the site had declined, we determined that it was no longer necessary to renew our contract.

All texts are available from the publishers listed on the book list. Also, you are welcome to search for titles on 3rd party vendor sites such as Amazon.com, Abebooks.com, DirectText-book.com, and Alibris.com. You can find textbooks on Ebay from time to time as well.

In addition, if you are on social media, join the “Atonement Exchange” Facebook group. It is a closed group, exclusively for our school families and graduates, and a good source for used uniforms —and books!

When searching for a text from the Publisher’s website:

1. Go to the publisher’s website listed on the book list.
2. Enter the 13 digit ISB number (you may need to eliminate dashes).
3. Make sure the copyright year and edition matches the information on our list, as many publishers will substitute their revised editions. You may need to scroll through selections before you match our information.
4. If the ISB number does not produce a match, try searching with the book title/author’s name.

5. Be aware of any special notes on our book list, such as the edition (2nd, 3rd, Revised) Volume number, Level number, etc.

NOTE: For ordering Shurley materials, be sure to go to the “Previous Editions” link found on the bottom left corner of the homepage. Next, click on the 2009 order form.

When searching for a text from 3rd party vendors:

Follow the preceding steps #2-5. Additionally: Be aware that entering a title into a search engine may yield several results that have the same or similar titles. Be sure you have an exact match.

Keep in mind that 3rd party vendors may send the wrong text, even though you supply the correct ISBN. (It has happened to me!) You may save a few dollars, but you are taking a bit of a risk. Please order early, in case you need to exchange or re-order.
