November 29, 2020
FIRST SUNDAY OF ADVENT

We can have Hope
because God is faithful and will keep the promises
He made to us.
Our hope
comes from God.

Your Christmas and year-end contributions to St. John the Evangelist Parish are absolutely vital for the financial well-being of our Parish in any given fiscal year. Thank you in advance for your generosity to your fellow Parishioners during this Holy Season.

St. John's Outreach Ministry Giving Tree—2020

A Christmas Tree will be in the Narthex of the Church decorated with contribution envelopes. White (Benjamin House) and Red (Outreach Ministry) envelopes will be hanging on the tree. Please take one envelope and follow the instructions inside.

Return the envelope to one of the following:

- ◆ Collection Basket at Mass
- ◆ Designated box at the back of church
- ◆ Parish Office (Monday – Thursday)

If you prefer to give a check to the Outreach Ministry, make your check out to "St. John's Outreach Ministry". For the Benjamin House, make checks out to "St. John's Parish" and put a note on the check's memo line. Personal checks can not be sent to Benjamin House at this time so St. John's will wire all donations to Poland.

Your generosity is appreciated!

Weekly Reflection

November 29, 2020

First Sunday of Advent

Reflection by Rev. Leonard N. Peterson

One day, while filing away papers, the secretary of President John F. Kennedy found this note, written in the president's own hand. It read: "I know there is a God—and I see a storm coming. If He has a place for me, I believe that I am ready." Our Lord's warning this weekend to be ready, and President Kennedy's readiness to serve, invite me to ask: "How ready am I to put myself at God's service for whatever God may ask me to do?"

Today begins Advent: a new season and a new Liturgical Year. It is a short season, often cut off from a full four weeks by the secular calendar. It is as if there's such a thing as "Lent Lite," since it asks us to do penance and fast in preparation for the great Feast of Christmas. Of course, one nod to the world around us and the media that frame it, and you would believe that this is the season for shopping, decorating, and even baking. None of those is bad in itself. But if any of it robs us of some quiet time for reflection and prayer, then we have wasted Advent time. In fact, this First Sunday of the season traditionally pulls us away from thoughts about the annual celebration of Christ's first coming to make us reflect on His second one. That is very much an unknown entity, even though it is inevitable.

The whole point of Advent is not to exclude our pre-Christmas fun, but to remind us of life's serious side. It's time to get ready for the next life as President Kennedy believed himself to be. Nor does Advent ask us to pretend that Christ has not already come to us. It is rather telling us that Christ wants to come closer to us. One day in the unknown future, framed in the Book of Revelation as one of fire raging and trumpets blaring, Jesus will come back as He promised He would, to judge us all and decide our eternal fate.

In the meantime, we are asked to remember the fact of His wanting to come closer to us. In fact, we should desire to be one of His points of entry into the world, always being attentive to what's coming, rather than just to opt for a settled and comfortable life. This means that we actually facilitate the coming of God's world into our own that began some 2,000 years ago with Christ. Now each of us has a part to play. In other words, each of us must so live that it doesn't matter when the end comes because our whole life is a preparation for it.

In this context, it is remarkable what insight comes to us by way of that twenty-something Little Flower who is Saint Therese of Lisieux. Once she wrote this:

"Let us go forward in peace, our eyes upon heaven, the only one goal of our labors."

Saint of the Week

Andrew, Apostle

Andrew, a native of Bethsaida, was a fisherman like his father, John, and his brother, Simon. When John the Baptist began preaching penance, Andrew became his disciple. One day, Jesus passed by while John was preaching and John said, "Behold the lamb of God." Andrew immediately grasped John's meaning and went off after Jesus, staying with him for several hours. He later introduced Jesus to Simon Peter, and the rest, as they say, is history. A feast honors this Apostle on November 30.

Andrew's message today: Hearing Jesus' words convinced Andrew that the Messiah had come at last. While we can't hear Jesus' words directly, our faith in Jesus as the Messiah grows as we study the Word of God in Scripture.

Do you spend some time each day studying the Word of God? Check in a local Christian bookstore or your parish library for books and other resources which may help in your pursuit.

First Sunday of Advent

Theme: Active waiting

Breaking Open the Word

Suggested text for faith sharing: Today's Gospel

Step One: Listen to the Word

As you hear this reading, what words or phrases strike you? What in this reading touches your heart? What words are repeated over and over again?

Step Two: Look into Your Life

Question for Children: What special things do you do to get ready for a visitor at your house? What things can you do like that to get ready for Jesus?

Question for Youth: What is one thing that you can do this week to help you remember that Jesus is coming?

Question for Adults: When you're getting ready to receive a guest, what are some things you do? How do you apply this to receiving Christ?

Advent 2020: Grow Closer To Your Guardian Angel

Advent begins this week and is a time of great joy and anticipation. While our gatherings this year might look a little different due to the pandemic, this is a unique opportunity to develop a closer relationship with our life companions that God Himself chose for us, our Guardian Angels. They can help us increase our faith, aid us in prayer, protect us from harm, and bring us closer to God. We invite you to join the Consecration to Our Guardian Angels Formation Year Program. This self-study series will help cultivate a meaningful relationship with your protector who is always at your side, your constant companion in all circumstances of life. Application forms are available at the back of the church, the Parish office and website. Please return them to the Parish Office or collection basket as soon as possible to receive your study materials early in December. If you have questions, contact Tana Dimino at stjohnlamb.guardianangels@gmail.com. For additional information about our study program, visit opusangelorum.org, click on membership, consecrations.

Psalm 91:11-12 For he will command his angels concerning you to guard you in all your ways. On their hands they will bear you up, lest you strike your foot against a stone.

MERCY CORNER

Good and gracious God,
You restore all things to yourself.
You never abandon those you love
And constantly seek to show us the way.
Wash away all our sins and open
Your doors of mercy to us.
Restore us to your grace and
Lead us to your abundant life.
Through Christ our Lord. Amen.

November 29, 2020—First Sunday of Advent

“Take heed, watch and pray; for you do not know when the time will come.” - Mark 13:33

We all take things for granted. In particular, we take time for granted. We make our lives too busy. We plan our time, our days, weeks, months, even years in advance. Remember, our time on earth is a gift. None of us knows how long we will be here. Start today and begin thanking God for each and every day. Take time in silence, every day, and listen to how God is calling you right now to help build His kingdom on earth.
