Dear Parents/Guardians,

I would like to begin this letter by telling you how excited I am to be working with both you and your child this upcoming year. My name is Mr. Bugliarelli; however, the children can simply call me Mr. B. I am a recent graduate of St. Joseph's College, and I have a B.A. in Child Study. This is my second full year at St. Patrick School, and I am very excited to be back. Although this is only my second year teaching here, many of your children already know me since I worked with many of them as a student teacher a few years ago. I couldn't be more excited to be working with them again, and I look forward to meeting new students and new families.

Your children are going to be learning a lot of wonderful things this year. This includes area and perimeter in math, research writing and character analysis in ELA, our Catholic tradition and the importance of celebrating mass in religious studies, and much more! It is my personal goal to help each child reach their fullest academic potential in all areas taught, therefore, I will be using plenty of different learning strategies that work best for each student.

The success and happiness of my students are my main priority as an educator. To help the students succeed as much as possible this year, I believe that an open line of communication between school and home is essential. Therefore, once the school year begins, feel free to contact me via email or telephone whenever you feel you would like. I will also try to contact parents whenever I feel it is necessary.

Once again, please allow me to tell you how excited I am to be working with both you and your child this upcoming school year. I look forward to a fun-filled, yet challenging, year ahead. Please feel free to contact me if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Mr. Bugliarelli
