Dear Parents, Guardians, and the St. Joseph School and Parish Community,

Another great week for our school community is in the books! Pre-K was busy creating crafts for a couple of different reasons: Valentine's Day and the letter "M". They made hearts as big as they are and "monsters" for their letter!

Kindergarten celebrated their 100th day of school with 100-themed projects as well as a parade around the building. Their special shirts were all unique and fun!

Our 3rd grade presented a beautiful prayer service on Wednesday. The theme of love fit well with Valentine's Day this week, but we were reminded that we are surrounded by God's love all year round.

Our Middle School has a few things to share this week. First, the 6th graders are working on their descriptive writing skills, and were given the opportunity to present their work to the class. This is helping to prepare them for the upcoming New York State assessments, which we will be administering on the computer for the first time. Pictured here are our 6th graders practicing for the new computer-based test by using the system exactly as they'll see it in March. Our 4th graders also practiced on the same system.

Middle School students are continuing to enjoy their Pathways classes as well. Here, a student is showcasing his electrical coding project, a step up from their current coding projects that they are working on during class time.

We were happy to have yet another successful Queen of Hearts fundraiser this week as well. This event has been running for 42 years, and every year it plays a huge role in helping us meet our fundraising goals. Thanks to all that helped make it happen, as well as all of our attendees.

Congratulations to all of our prize winners as well!

We're off next week, and we're looking forward to approaching the final half of the year with positivity as we always do!

Warm Regards,

Mr. Brian Colombar
Principal, St. Joseph School
