Teaching Minds. Guiding Hearts.

Good Afternoon All,

Happy Friday! Another great week at SJS. We were blessed with nice weather for most of the week, and the students enjoyed a lot of outdoor time.

Once again, I'd like to thank you for your cooperation during Tuesday's unexpected lock out. Cooperation and communication were the keys to our success. Thanks for helping us keep your children safe here in the school building.

You received an email this week regarding our Student Council spring service project, during which we'll be collecting new and gently used children's and young adult books. Please bring those books to the school or send them in with your children between April 26th and May 14th. There will be drop off bins for your convenience in the main hallway.

Tomorrow, our 2nd graders will be receiving their First Holy Communion at 11:30. We're so proud of them, and happy that we are able to provide them with this special experience in the church as scheduled.

Next week, we will be having our final Parent Coffee meeting of the year, this time with our Middle School parents. Middle School parents, please RSVP through the Parent Square app if you're interested in attending. Our 3rd grade class will be presenting our April prayer service, which will be recorded and sent to our school community on Thursday, 4/29. Also, our 7th graders will be representing us at the 9 AM parish Mass on Friday, 4/30.

May is fast approaching, and we're excited for all of the wonderful events (for parents and students) coming soon! Keep up with all of the happenings at SJS by following us on social media. You can find us on Facebook @sjsgardencity and on Instagram @sjs_gardencity. Please consider liking, commenting on, and sharing our posts. Also, positive reviews on Facebook go a long way! Nothing like word-of-mouth advertising to pique people's interest in our growing school community.

Looking forward to the new week as spring really begins to bloom!

Warm Regards,

Mr. Colomaban
